THROUGHOUT those portions of Pennsylvania and Ohio with which we have immediate communication, corn planting is very late—in large districts it is yet unfinished. The farmers are, however, very hopeful of a good crop. For other grains and fruit the prospect is excellent, and the owners of the soil are—as they have a right to be—in high spirits.

COL. MCCLURE, of Chambersburg, is fighting shy of the Indians. He telegraphs from some place or other in the Indian country to Secretary Stanton to send forward military protection, as he and many others have been detained two weeks and the savages have things all their own way. The gallant Colonel before he went gave out that he did so partly to get rid of the uncomfortable state of the political world at home. We would like to have his opinion which place he prefers—Harrisburg or the one he is now in.

HOMŒOPATHIC STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY.—The Homœopathic Medical Society of Pennsylvania held their annual meeting in Philadelphia on Monday and Tuesday. At an election held on Monday, the following officers for the ensuing year were elected: President—W. Williamson, M. D., Philadelphia. Vice Presidents—J. H. Marsden, M. D., York Sulphur Springs; W. James Blakely, M. D., Benzinger. Recording Secretary—Bushrod W. James, M. D., Philadelphia. Corresponding Secretary—R. J. McClatchey, M. D., Philadelphia. Treasurer—H. H. Hofmann, M. D., Pittsburgh. Censors—R. Ross Roberts, M. D., Harrisburg; Coates Preston, M. D., Chester; J. C. Burgher, M. D., Pittsburgh. An interesting report from the Pittsburgh Homœopathic Hospital was read by Dr. J. C. Burgher.

THE return judges from the several election districts of Armstrong county, selected to hold the Republican primary meetings for the nomination by ballot of candidates for county offices, met in Kittanning on Tuesday. Some twenty-six hundred votes were polled at the primary elections, a spirited contest occurring between the candidates for Sheriff and Treasurer. Col. Jackson had no opposition, and was declared the nominee of the party for Assembly. The ticket nominated is as follows: Assembly—Col. S. M. Jackson; Sheriff—David J. Reed; Treasurer—John McClelland; District Attorney—J. O. Barrett; Jury Commissioner—Geo. B. Sloan; Commissioner—Daniel Slagle; Auditor—Geo. G. Boreland.

A National Salute.

Admiral Tucker, of the Peruvian squadron, is a deserter from our naval service, having gone out with the secession tide. Admiral Dahlgren being in Peru, refuses to exchange the customary salutes and courtesies with the Peruvian Admiral, and a correspondence ensues between the Peruvian Government and our Minister, Mr. Hovey. This correspondence and the letters of Admiral Dahlgren are communicated to the State Department, and Mr. Seward makes a reply. He commends the views of Admiral Dahlgren, and hopes "that the spirit which dictates these views will long continue to animate and inspire our entire naval service." He adds, however, that Peru is a sovereign State, and enjoys the absolute right of selecting those to whom she entrusts her defense. The flag of Peru designates a national vessel, irrespective of the merits or demerits of the officer in whose charge it is placed. The regulation in regard to salutes is a matter of national comity. Mr. Seward concludes:

"In accordance with these principles the Secretary of the Navy will instruct Admiral Dahlgren that the national flags of the republics are in all cases to receive from him the salutes and other civilities prescribed by the navy regulations. This direction will not interfere with the proper and patriotic determination of Admiral Dahlgren and the officers under his command to decline personal and individual intercourse not involving international rights and duties, with rebels and traitors against the United States, wheresoever and under whatever circumstances they may be found."

BUT two of the recommendations made by Chief Justice Chase for registry in bankruptcy have been returned, those for the First and Fourth districts of Maryland, non-residence being alleged by the Judge as the reason of his declining to confirm them. He has strong Southern sympathies and the nominees are radical Republicans. The Chief Justice has properly considered the matter and nominated both men a second time.

AN AMERICAN BOURBON.—Mr. Montgomery Peters, a delegate to amend the Constitution of Maryland, delivered himself of a speech, denying that slavery is abolished, and announcing that the "institution lives in the hearts of its friends, doubly consecrated by the injustice they have been the victims of;" adding that he held in his hand a letter from Charles O'Connor, doing him the great honor of agreeing with him in opinion.

THE Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company has purchased the Susquehanna and West Branch Canals. It is the intention of the company to deepen and improve this line, and use it to assist the railroads in getting the immense lumber trade to market. The lumbermen of Williamsport are hampered and their business curtailed to some extent, in consequence of the inability of the railroads to supply cars enough to ship their lumber.

DECREASE OF THE REVENUE.—The letter of Secretary McCulloch to the Boston merchants and others, a few days since, must have prepared the public mind for a temporary diminution of internal revenue, and even a small increase of the public debt. But few are prepared for quite so large a diminution of revenue as the returns for March and April, which have just been made public, indicate. The assessed taxes on the manufactures and productions in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island, so far as made, show a falling off this year, as compared with corresponding months of last year, of more than 40 per cent., and in income taxes there is yet a greater falling off. So that taking these returns as a basis of calculation, we may anticipate an increase of the public debt this year of one hundred and twenty millions of dollars.

LATE NEWS ITEMS.

Representative Ashley is said to have proclaimed his determination to move the Judiciary Committee, when it meets on the 26th inst., to reconsider their action relative to impeachment, and failing of success in this to compel the House to vote on the question. The action of the committee is, however, approved by nearly all Republicans in Washington.

The City Councils of Philadelphia have refused to appropriate funds in aid of the Board of Health, and hence that body have declared that they cannot carry out certain necessary reforms.

Havana advices to the 1st, state that one of Maximilian's war vessels arrived there with a prize, captured off Yucatan. As a prize cannot be sold only in a port held by the captor, it is unknown what course will be pursued in this case.

A royal order has been received in Havana, valuing slaves at four hundred dollars or less, which is about the expense of a Chinese Coolie for eight years. This is looked upon as a decided step towards the abolition of slavery.

The total number of deaths in Cincinnati last month was two hundred and seventy-three.

One genuine case of cholera occurred in New York on Tuesday, in a very filthy locality.

Late Omaha dispatches say the Indians captured twenty-five head of cattle from the railroad employees twenty miles west of Julesburg on Monday. A coach was attacked near Fairview Station on Sunday and two drivers killed. There was but one passenger in the coach and he escaped by running to the river.

A dispatch dated Tuesday, at Main Stem, Union Pacific Railroad, three hundred and sixty-one miles west of Omaha, says: Wade's Senatorial party spent to-day at General Augur's camp here, at the end of the track, two and a quarter miles of which have been laid since ten o'clock this morning. General Sherman starts to-morrow morning with General Augur's command for Fort Sedgwick, Julesburg station, to look after Indian troubles.

A special to the New York Herald says: A mixed convention of Republicans assembled in Montgomery, Alabama, yesterday. The offices were very impartially distributed among the two harmonious races, Judge Smith, a white man, being elected President, and the darkies receiving half the remaining offices. Gen. Swayne, Gov. Patton and others were present. A motion to invite Judge Busteed to a seat on the platform was violently opposed by the negroes, and on its being renewed in the afternoon session, the Macon county delegation seceded, whereupon the convention adjourned.

A most shocking accident happened in Hodgeville, Ky., a few days since, viz: The dry goods store formerly occupied by Dock, Martin & Co., took fire about day break on the 27th ult. ult. While trying to save the building six men were burned to death; Tom Robertson, Tom Hamilton, H. B. Kirkpatrick, Lou. Mattingly, G. A. Prewitt, and Dick Mattingly. Several others were wounded, but not seriously.

The Removal of Governor Wells.

Mr. Durant Peremptorily Declines the Appointment.

Return of the President and Gen. Grant.

Result of the Louisiana Registration.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Commercial.

WASHINGTON, June 5.

Removal of Governor Wells.

The Government has received no official information of General Sheridan's removal of the Governor of Louisiana, and even if it were at hand the absence of the President and General Grant, and a portion of the Cabinet, would prevent any action. The Attorney General, however, resumed the duties of his office this morning, and is understood to have taken up the general question of the power of military commanders to remove State and municipal officers in the States where they have command. Letters to his department from all parts of the South are earnestly calling for this decision, and express regrets that it was not made when the late opinion in the features of the Reconstruction act was promulgated.

Mr. Durant's Declination.

Thos. J. Durant, who was appointed by Gen. Sheridan, Governor in place of Wells, telegraphed to-day, peremptorily declining the appointment, and also sent a letter by mail to Gen. Sheridan, setting forth his reasons for not accepting the position.

Registers Non-Confirmed.

Dispatches were received at the Clerk's office of the Supreme Court to-day from New Orleans, stating that Judge Durell had declined to confirm two of the Registers in Bankruptcy nominated by Chief Justice Chase. He had confirmed, however, the appointment of ex-Governor Hamilton as Register for the District of New Orleans.

Speakers for the South.

The Republican Congressional Committee are about to send additional speakers throughout the South, among whom is Langston, the Ohio colored lawyer.

The Japanese.

The Japanese Commissioners have left the city for a visit to the coal mines in Pennsylvania, and several of the northern cities. They will return to Washington before they leave for Japan.

The President and Gen. Grant.

The President's Secretary telegraphs that he will be here on Saturday morning. Gen. Grant is expected back by that time.

Illness of Admiral Farragut.

Admiral Farragut has been obliged to delay his departure for the Mediterranian on account of ill health.

The Louisiana Registry.

A special from New Orleans says that registration returns have been received from twenty-eight parishes of Louisiana, including the four districts of New Orleans. The colored registers have a majority in every parish but two, and in the latter the registry is very close.

The Mobile Mayor.

Ex-Mayor Withers, of Mobile, has had an interview with Attorney General Stanberry, relative to his displacement by General Pope, and is assured that it is not regarded as legal by that officer, so far as the facts have come before him.

Maximilian.

Every effort is being made by the Austrian Minister, as the diplomatic representative of Maximilian, in his behalf and that of the other Imperial officers now in the hands of the Liberals. He has been encouraged to-day by the receipt of intelligence leading him to believe that the ex-Emperor will be released on publicly renouncing all claims to Mexico, although the information is not official.

An Indian War.

A mass of detailed reports to the Indian Bureau seem to coincide in the opinion that an Indian war is inevitable, and the War Department is making arrangements for forwarding arms, horses, etc.

WASHINGTON, June 5, 1867.

DECLINES THE HONOR.

It is ascertained that Mr. Durant this morning telegraphed to General Sheridan, in response to the appointment tendered him by that officer as Governor of Louisiana, peremptorily declining the honor.

THE JAPANESE.

The Japanese Commissioners have left Washington for New York and Boston. The Chief Commissioner leaves in the steamer of the 11th for San Francisco, to take the Colorado for Japan. The two naval officers remain, to go home in the Stonewall. Capt. Brown, of the Navy, has been engaged by the Commissioners to take her out.

THE STRAITS OF MAGELLAN.

Commander Geo. F. Emmons, commanding United States steamer Osipee, reports to the Navy Department under date of West Entrance of Magellan's Straits, April 16th, that he left that place on the date of his dispatch, having removed over night to Sandy Point, where he communicated with the Governor of the Chilean settlement, and at his urgent request gave passage to one of his colonists to Valparaiso. At Port Gallant Capt. Emmons found the English brig Julia Langley, which had entered the Straits some weeks previous, and put back from Crooked Narrows, where she was menaced by the natives in canoes. Assistance was tendered to the brig by the commander of the Osipee. At West Entrance and all along the Straits natives came to the side of the vessel in their canoes in an almost naked state, clamorous for tobacco and fire-water, offering a few skins, &c., in exchange. They are becoming very bold and numerous, since the Straits are now more frequented, and will give trouble to any vessel that may get on shore or not manned with sufficient numbers for self protection. Officers belonging to Her British Majesty's steamship Waverly, now employed in surveying the Straits, were wounded by them recently.

SAFETY VALVES FOR STEAMBOATS.

The Secretary of the Treasury has issued a circular approving the use of the following named locked safety valves, at the option of steamboat owners, subject, of course, to the usual inspection and test applied by local inspectors, and examination and approval or disapproval for special reasons by supervising inspectors. These valves, though in general character approved, are yet to be subjected to the most careful and exact scrutiny as to quality of material and workmanship and their sufficiency. This enumeration is by no means to exclude others equally meritorious that may be presented, but supervising inspectors are required to afford to all such thorough and impartial examination, and accept any found to possess merit equal. The valves chosen are, first, the American high and low pressure; second, the Robinson high and low pressure; third, the Farrar high and low pressure; fourth, the Mason high and low pressure; fifth, the McMurchy.

REDEMPTION OF COMPOUND NOTES.

The Treasury Department is prepared to redeem United States compound interest notes as they shall severally mature by the payment of principal and interest thereon to date of maturity, on their presentation to the Treasurer or either Assistant Treasurers at New York, Philadelphia or Boston.

THE CURRENCY BALANCE.

The large balance in currency shown by the public debt statement is caused principally from receipts from miscellaneous sources and internal revenue near the close of May, as well as the necessity to prepare for the interest falling due in a few days on 7-30 notes and the principal of the compound interest notes and interest thereon, and also to meet requisitions expected in a few days from other departments.

ANOTHER SECTION COMPLETED.

The Secretary of the Interior has received a report from Brevet Brigadier General J. H. Sampson, and Messrs. Wm. M. White and F. P. Blair, Union Pacific Railroad Commissioners, stating that they found the tenth section of forty miles of that road, commencing at the 305th and terminating at the 345th mile post, ready for immediate service, and supplied with all appurtenances of a first class railroad, and therefore recommend the acceptance by the government of said section.

THE NAVY.

Captain McDougall has been detached from command of the Pensacola, by the reporting of Fleet Captain Paul Sherley, and placed on waiting orders. Fleet Captain Sherley will take command of the Pensacola in addition to his present duties as Fleet Captain of the North Pacific Squadron.

His Address on the Occasion.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Commercial.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 5, 1867.

Chief Justice Chase arrived here this afternoon at four o'clock, and was met at the depot by a delegation of members of the bar, several prominent white Unionists, and about eighteen hundred freedmen. The latter formed a procession, and escorted him through the streets of the city to the Yarborough House, from the balcony of which he was introduced by Mayor Haywood, and addressed a crowd of about three thousand persons, as follows:

"My friends, I thank you for your kind reception in behalf of the citizens of Raleigh, and I rejoice that I am able to meet you now. We have passed through a fiery trial, but have at last found peace, and with peace we have freedom. Rejoicing not only for this freedom, but that I meet you upon an equality with all men equal before the law, let us hope that we may all know how to use this freedom, and let us all, without exception of color, aid in restoring the Government and our whole country. That is and will ever be the wish of my heart. Again, I thank you for your kind reception."

He retired from the balcony, and the crowd burst into vociferous cheers, after which they dispersed.

EXECUTION OF GOTTLEIB WILLIAMS.

A Solemn Spectacle

Demeanor of the Condemned Man.

He Protests His Innocence to the Last.

Williams, the murderer, was executed in Philadelphia, Tuesday morning, under the usual solemnities. Before leaving his cell, in the presence of many persons he declared he was innocent of the crime for which he was condemned. We quote from the Bulletin's account:

It was a pitiable sight to see the condemned man moving along the corridor of the prison and through the jail yard towards the gallows. His left side was paralyzed, and he dragged his helpless limb after him with difficulty.

At eleven o'clock the fatal spot was reached, and Williams having been assisted to mount the steps leading to the gallows, he took a seat upon a chair which stood upon the scaffold. He was accompanied by Sheriff Howell, Superintendent Perkins, and Rev. Mr. Allen, Williams looked pale but firm and collected, and while evidently impressed with the awful position which he occupied, he did not evince any signs of terror or fear.

Mr. Allen then delivered a brief address, in which he spoke of the painful scene in which he was an actor, and urged the Bible as a resource for all who are in affliction or sorrow.

Mr. Allen took occasion, during his remarks, to refer to the prisoner's oft-repeated declarations of innocence of the crime of which he was convicted. He had committed other crimes, among which was the murder of the boy Doescher, but of the murder of Mrs. Miller he was innocent. To these declarations Williams expressed assent.

Mr. Allen then catechised Williams with a view to eliciting his faith in Christ. He first asked whom he relied upon for salvation. Williams responded:

"Jesus Christ."

"What text of Scripture gives you hope and consolation at this time?"

To this the condemned answered:

"God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son that whosoever believed in Him might not perish, but have everlasting life."

Mr. Allen then engaged in prayer, the condemned man kneeling at a chair with his face buried in his hands.

After the prayer was finished the preparations for the last sad ceremony were performed. When he left his cell the prisoner had on a pair of dark pantaloons, white shirt, cloth cap and heavy woolen vest. At his request the cap and vest were removed. The fatal noose was then placed about his neck, the white cap was placed over his face, and the bright and beautiful world and the laughing sunshine were shut out from his sight forever.

While he stood alone upon the scaffold with the cap over his face, Mr. Allen, who stood upon the ground, continued to exhort the wretched man. He constantly reiterated the following words, and Williams repeated them until the fall of the fatal drop closed his earthly career:

"God be merciful to me a sinner! God be merciful to me a sinner! God be merciful to me."

The drop fell at eighteen minutes past eleven o'clock, and in a few minutes all that was left of Gottleib Williams was a dangling corpse.

The neck of the prisoner could scarcely have been broken by the fall, for the knot slipped to the back part of his neck, and death was probably caused by strangulation. He struggled violently for a minute or two after the drop fell, and then all was over. After the body had hung until life was extinct, it was cut down and delivered to the relatives of the deceased.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.

Secretary Seward's Plan of Settlement for English Real Estate---British Reports of American Diplomacy, &c.

[Philadelphia (April 26) correspondence of London Times.]

A communication with reference to the Alabama claims question was received at Washington, from the British Government, a few days ago, in which the submission of the question in dispute to arbitration was proposed. This communication was considered in Cabinet meeting, and the determination was that the United States Government should adhere to its refusal to submit those claims to arbitration in the manner proposed. Mr. Adams was therefore instructed to respectfully decline the acceptance of the propositions made by Great Britain. This leaves the Alabama dispute about where it started, without either nation now having pending any proposition that will tend to its settlement. There have been informal conversations upon the subject, I understand, between the British Minister at Washington and the Secretary of State, but no result has yet been arrived at.

Secretary Seward has his eye set upon British Columbia, and desires to obtain it, and this subject has been alluded to, though no negotiations for its purchase have been in any way begun. As the Alabama claims must at an early day come up for settlement, when the next communication on the subject is received from England, it is probable that the Secretary will then present the subject of the purchase of the British possessions on the Pacific coast to the British Minister, and it will be considered in connection with the Alabama controversy. The matter is as yet, however, crude. It is reported from Washington that the United States Government has during the past week received from official sources the assurance that the British Government is not at all annoyed by, and does not object to, the recent sale of the Russian American possessions to the United. On the contrary, the assurance is given that Great Britain is entirely satisfied with the transaction, and considers that the cession was made in no unfriendly spirit. The Americans are strongly bent on annexation, and talk not only of buying British Columbia but also of buying Canada, though in the latter case they humbly limit their desires to a purchase only when the free consent of all the parties concerned, the people of Canada as well as the British Government, is obtained.

STATE ITEMS.

Wm. H. Bell, a well-known citizen of Harrisburg, died after a brief illness on Wednesday. He was married on Thursday last.

Judge David B. Greene organized his court in Harrisburg on Monday, under the act passed last winter, creating the First District of Criminal Jurisdiction, to be composed of Dauphin, Lebanon and Schuylkill counties. There being no business ready, the court adjourned until the first Monday in September.

On Monday steel was manufactured at the Pennsylvania Steel Works, a few miles below Harrisburg, in thirty minutes, by the Bessemer process, by which steel rails are manufactured almost as cheap as ordinary iron. Governor Geary, S. M. Felton, Isaac Hinckley, Wm. V. McKean, Dr. Bigelow, of Boston, and a number of others, including ladies, were present, and in thirty minutes sixteen steel ingots were made, each one large enough to roll into ordinary "T" rail.

Joseph Lamphear, who was arrested as a fugitive from justice from Pithole, Pennsylvania, charged with false pretenses to the tune of $600, has caused the arrest at Cincinnati, of Samantha Prector, the lady who caused his arrest. He charges her with perjury.

A few nights since a gang of desperadoes forcibly entered the farm house of Mr. Moody, situated in the woods above Dawson Center, on Pithole Creek. They dragged the proprietor out doors, and threatened to hang him unless he disclosed where he kept his money. At the same time they tied up and bound hand and foot the other members of the family, including the servant girl. The latter, who attempted to escape, and screamed for help, was made doubly fast, by tying to her feet the pots and kettles and the other kitchen utensils. The ruffians were masked, and finding that Mr. Moody would not disgorge, and that their search could discover no booty, they made their escape.

The following delegates to the State Medical Society, which meets in Pittsburgh next week, will represent Philadelphia county: Drs. Wm. B. Atkinson, W. Mayberry, Winthrop Sargent, D. HORACE GREELEY admits that "thousands" have stopped the New York Tribune since he became the "best man" for Jeff. Davis, Breckinridge & Co. Horace also expresses the opinion that "God, for some inscrutable purpose, permits" other editors to differ with him.—Chicago Journal.

THE death of Dr. Livingston is at last fully authenticated by a private letter dated at Johanna. The Mavela attacked the private party on a wide plain. The slaughter was effected at noon, and at night some friendly Africans returned by stealth and buried the body."

IT is asserted that on the 10th of June the trunk roads will make a substantial addition to the freight charges and adhere to them. Some Eastern and Western roads have not yet agreed to make a corresponding advance, but they will be forced to pay the trunk roads their price or go without their freight. It is stated that there is more tonnage moving over the New York Central and Erie roads than last year, but at unproductive rates.

FROM MONTGOMERY.

Republican State Convention of Alabama---The Platform Adopted.

MONTGOMERY, June 5.—The Union Convention of Alabama adjourned sine die to-day, after a two days' session. Over forty counties were represented by about one hundred and seventy delegates. To-day the Committee on Platform made a report, which was unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That the Republican party of Alabama declares itself a part of and in alliance with the National Republican party of the Union, and unconditional friends of the Union of these States.

Resolved, That we indorse the action of Congress on the question of reconstruction, and will heartily endeavor to carry out the same to its conclusion.

Resolved, That we will endeavor to secure, by amendments to the constitutions and laws of the United States and State, the equal rights of all men, and full enjoyment of the right of citizenship without distinction on account of color.

Resolved, That we are the friends and advocates of free speech, free press and free schools, and the most liberal provision by the State for the purpose of educating the people thereof, and henceforth there is to be no distinction between the inhabitants of the State in civil and political rights on account of color or previous condition.

Resolved, That we discountenance any action calculated to stir up strife and contention among the people, believing that such a course is in every way injurious to the country.

Resolved, That those men who stood firm to the cause of the Union, are entitled to that confidence which is the reward of patriotism and fidelity in every land.

Resolved, That we pledge our endeavors to the removal of the tax on cotton and State poll tax, and establish as a rule in the State that the tax paid by every man shall exactly be in proportion to his property, and none other.

Resolved, That we recommend to the people of the State that they manifest to the world their determination to abide by the prescribed terms of restoration, by electing to office men who can comply in all respects with the requirements of the acts of the Congress of the United States, and to support for office only such men as were true to the Union, and who prefer the government of the United States to any other that could be formed, and that all men have a cordial welcome to political equality upon this basis.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

The Levee Commissioners--Sound Advice from General Longstreet--Letter from Governor Wells.

NEW ORLEANS, June 5.—The Board of Levee Commissioners appointed by Governor Wells have perfected their organization by electing Robert B. Stille President; E. Hangamor, Chief Engineer; M. C. Suethen, Secretary.

General Longstreet publishes a letter this morning, containing the following paragraph: "The military bill and amendments are peace offerings. We should accept them as such, and place ourselves upon them as the starting point from which to meet future political issues as they arise."

Governor Wells published a letter addressed to the President, protesting against his removal, and another very caustic addressed to Gen. Sheridan, in which he says there is not a word of truth in the charge that he was impeding the execution of the laws of Congress.

FROM CHARLESTON.

Dissatisfaction with Gen. Sickles's Orders--Suicide.

CHARLESTON, June 5.—Considerable depression prevails in this community, owing to the recent orders of Gen. Sickles interfering in municipal affairs. During the past two days city stock has fallen 10 to 15 per cent. The Board of Trade has passed a resolution deprecating some provisions of order No. 32 as injurious to the city, and appointing a committee to confer with Gen. Sickles in relation thereto.

A white man named Kerrs, who was recently committed to jail on a charge of attempted rape on a little colored girl, hung himself in his cell last night.

From Montreal.

MONTREAL, June 5.—The British war office has decided to send 60,000 Snyder Enfield rifles to Canada for the use of volunteers. A large quantity of Snyder ammunition has been sent for the use of regulars and volunteers.

Fire in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, June 5.—The buildings occupied by the hog packing establishment on North street, owned by J. N. Bonaparte, was burned this morning. The loss was covered by insurance.

OUR NEW POSSESSIONS.

The Russian Treaty---What We Get for Our Money.

A correspondent of the Herald, writing from St. Petersburg, gives the following information:

The ships belonging to the Company number four of large size and in good order, while there are seven steamers of various sizes, which go in the bargain, beside a large number of boats of divers sizes and build, adapted to the fisheries, transportation of merchandise, lightering, &c.

The merchandise consists of groceries of all kinds, dry goods, and generally a country store assortment, not to forget scarlet blankets, beads and jewelry of a loud pattern, to attract attention and excite the desires of the rough and rugged settlers and the oleaginous Esquimaux, who much abound in that frosty region. For the benefit of Mr. Seward, who has undertaken to bring out the Company, groceries, dry goods, Yankee notions, beads and all, in order that Uncle Sam shall keep store for a while, I may add that hitherto the profits have been very handsome. The settlers, who indulge in fishing in the Summer and laying up ice in the Winter, for sale in South America and the tropics, make a great deal of money thereby, which, added to the amounts gathered by the sale of muskrats, pelts, &c., places them in a position to be good cash customers at the country stores. There being no theaters or other amusements in the country, the money is judiciously passed over the counter in exchange for the comforts and luxuries even of their peculiar life. The imports of the country, consisting principally of merchandise, in 1862, were 268,727 roubles and 59 kopecks, to be accurate. They have increased since then, and are nearly one-fourth larger. The sales of these country store assortments of goods are made to the colonists, and do not enter into the transactions properly of the Company.

The amount of imports plus a handsome profit is gathered in solid cash and no credit. The people get their money, as I have before remarked, from the sale of ice, which amounted to more than $60,000 last year; of furs, amounting to over a hundred thousand roubles (not connected with the Company) and muskrat fat and fish fat, which has been wasted for a hundred years, but which is now going to the Sandwich Islands for use there, to the amount of $40,000 last year.

The entire product of Russian America in 1862, which is the latest date I have yet obtained, was 859,505 roubles and 39 kopecks. It has very largely increased of late years, since the exportation of ice, fish fat and other productions. The estimate of last year placed it over a million roubles. The ice business may be developed to more imposing proportions with energy and enterprise. There are a large number of ice caves or cellars already built, which will come in play to great advantage.

The Russian company spend about three hundred and thirty-five thousand roubles yearly on its schools, churches, asylums and other public institutions. There are about thirty-five churches and chapels in the possession, which go to the United States. Notwithstanding the expenses of the Company in thus maintaining churches, schools, &c., the profits of the Company are over four hundred thousand roubles yearly, which I take to be a low figures. It received for a long time from the Government two hundred thousand roubles subvention; but that has been done away with some three years since. Per contra, there is a little bill of nearly one hundred thousand roubles to be paid by the United States to the company for packing and removing goods, and I know not what all. I do not understand this bill myself, and send it only as an item in the account.

There is excellent, or as it is termed in the scientific report, "superb" coal in the country. Three leads were opened up in Sitka itself which produced a capital article. But the best coal is found on Canal (I spell as correctly as I can from the Russian) Bay, where it is found in large quantities. It is well adapted for the use of steamers, and one kind makes splendid gas. This is convenient, and can be worked with great profit by the use of capital. The only reason it never has been exported is, that the Company had no money to engage labor, and the mines were thus never further developed than was necessary to supply the wants of the Company and the colonists. The copper mines are rich, as are also the iron mines, but need capital to develop them, which will be forthcoming when the Americans once get into the country.

A scientific engineer visited the country in 1855, and carried tools to work the coal mines, but the enterprise failed from causes not alluded to in reports I have seen.

Finally, the value of property acquired by the Government for $7,250,000 in gold, to which must be added the amount likely to be paid to the Russian American company—say, $1,000,000—making altogether, $8,250,000, is fairly worth $15,000,006, leaving out the territory altogether. This estimate is a fair and just one, and is rather under than over the mark.

New Railroad Project.

The York, Pa., Press says: "Great efforts are being made to construct a railroad through the upper end of York county, with every prospect of success. The charter for this road was granted last winter—its title being the Caledonia Iron, Land and Railroad Company. The privileges of this company and the powers bestowed upon it by the Legislature, occasioned no little surprise to persons interested, in view of the fact that the Pennsylvania Railroad is a greater power in this State than the Legislature itself. In pursuance of the charter, we have been informed that the Commissioners of the road met at Caledonia Iron Works, on Tuesday, the 16th ult., and organized by electing the following officers: President, Levi Kaufman, Cashier Second National Bank, Mechanicsburgh, Cumberland county; Treasurer, Daniel Ahl, Newville, Cumberland county; Secretary, General Fisher, Columbia Lancaster county."

THE LATE ERNEST C. WALLACE.—The Philadelphia Bulletin gives the following brief biography of Ernest C. Wallace, one of the editors and proprietors of that paper, whose death at Yonkers, New York, on Saturday last, has already been announced: "He was born in Pittsburgh, December 3d, 1833, so that his age was thirty-three years and six months. He was baptized by the late Rev. Dr. Herron, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Pittsburgh. He was educated partly at the Western University in that city. He was also a student for one year in the University of Pennsylvania, after his father came to Philadelphia to reside, in 1852. Previous to that time he had resided, after leaving Pittsburgh, at Waterford, Pa., Russellville, Ky., York, Pa., and Newark, Del. It was at the close of 1854 that he entered the Bulletin office, his connection with which continued until his death. He assisted his father, during part of the period, in editing the Presbyterian Quarterly Review. He was married January 17, 1862, to the second daughter of Wm. Deal, Esq., of Philadelphia."

THE New York Herald says: The city of New York, as a large real estate proprietor, has been munificent in its "donations" of its land to sectarian purposes. One, and the most noted example of this, is the "lease" to the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum, of two entire blocks of ground on Fifth avenue, between Fifty-first and Fifty-second streets, for ninety-nine years, at $1 per annum! The tenant pays the rent with great punctuality, sometimes for a series of years in advance. This lease was made by the Common Council of the city of New York in 1846. A cathedral of capacity to seat fifteen thousand people, is being erected on one of these blocks. These lots are worth about one million of dollars.

DIRECT SHIPMENTS FROM BALTIMORE TO JAPAN.—The bark Monita left our port on Saturday last with a cargo of coal, bound direct for Japan. This is the first shipment of the kind ever made from Baltimore to that distant port. It is to be followed by others, however, and will doubtless result in a regularly established trade between this city and Japan. There are now three vessels loading at our wharves with coal for the Pacific, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, with its unsurpassed facilities (its double track to the coal regions being now complete), bringing down daily some five thousand tons for this and other trades.—Baltimore American.

HEALTH OF MAXIMILIAN'S WIFE.—The British Medical Journal states that the mental condition of the Empress of Mexico shows no signs of improvement. Under the stress of the peculiarly distressing symptoms with which mental alienation is accompanied in her case, the committee who have been charged by the Emperor of Austria with the administration of her affairs and her personal charge have proposed to have a consultation of eminent European allenists, naming for the purpose Dr. Griesinger, Berlin; Dr. Morel, Paris; and Dr. Daudsley, London.

ON the 2d instant there arrived at New York nearly three thousand souls, all from Liverpool steamers: City of London, 1,020; Edinburg, 936; Hecla, 493; Adelaide, 298. All are reported in good health. It is said that a party of 200 of those on board the London are laborers, who have made a contract to work on the Pacific Railroad. They came west.

CITY MATTERS.

THE MONUMENTAL FAIR.

Crowds Still in Attendance---Additional Attractions---The Close To-Morrow Evening---Receipts thus far $14 800.

Another immense throng congregated at the Monumental Fair, in City Hall, last evening, and the attendance was as large as at any time since the opening of the Fair. Every person should bear in mind that the Fair closes to-morrow night, and all who have not attended it should do so at once. If you want to spend a pleasant evening, you should go to City Hall before the Fair closes. We expect to see the hall literally crowded to-day and to-morrow.

THE BOOTHS.

The various booths in the hall are doing a thriving business, and a large variety of articles are daily disposed of. The attendance at the Art Gallery yesterday afternoon and evening was very large, and the sale of the pictures progresses, though not so rapidly as it should. A number of new attractions have been placed in the Curiosity Shop, and the receipts from this department were quite large. The Shady Side, Sunny Sine, Manchester, Soldiers' Home, the Hope and Friendship, and the various church booths, are all being well patronized. At the Mansfield booth a number of articles will be raffled off this evening, among which are a pair of beautiful vases, and an elegant castor. At the Sunny Side booth the magnificent Masonic regalia is being disposed of in chances. At the Ninth ward table, an elegant toilet set will be disposed of in chances to-night. The chances in the magnificent cake are going off rapidly. The table of the Blind Institution, the Express office and Telegraph offices are all meeting with abundant success. The prisoner's chest are being taken freely and any one desirous of taking a chance should do so at once. Among the novelties of the Fountain enclosure is a large turtle placed in the marble basin.

THE SUBSISTENCE COMMITTEE.

The extra dinner given yesterday afternoon was a grand success. The attendance at the tables continues large. The chances in the magnificent cakes are almost all taken. Dinner will be served up to-day and to-morrow from twelve to three o'clock.

VOTING ON THE PRIZE ARTICLES.

The voting on the prize articles is kept up with great spirit. All public voting on the various prize articles will close to-night at ten o'clock, and sealed ballots only will be received to-morrow, up till nine o'clock P. M.

In a contest for a cane, Charles Wakefield, of Allegheny, was the lucky contestant.

RECEIPTS.

The total receipts of the Fair, from all sources, up till ten o'clock last night, amounted to fourteen thousand eight hundred dollars.

VISITORS TO THE FAIR.

The male inmates of the House of Refuge, to the number of about one hundred, visited the Fair yesterday afternoon, and all seemed to be highly delighted. The squad, which was under the escort of the police, marched through the various streets of the city in ranks, headed by an excellent band, composed of the larger of the male inmates, and attracted considerable attention.

The soldiers' orphans, from the Phillipsburg Home, will arrive this morning and visit the Fair in a body. There are about two hundred of them, and they will remain until evening. A lunch will be served to them in the gallery of the hall. The inmates of all charitable institutions are admitted to the Fair free of charge.

MAY POLE DANCE.

This evening and to-morrow evening the beautiful May-Pole dance will be performed in the hall by thirty-seven young ladies, under the direction of Miss Hattie Brown, of Allegheny. This dance will be an attractive feature.

ENGINES FOR SALE.—Two upright engines, in good working order, are offered for sale at a bargain by Lewis, Oliver & Phillips. Parties desiring such should apply immediately, either at Warehouse, corner of Market and Water streets, or at Works, south end of Birmingham bridge.

Fenian Meeting at Lafayette Hall.

Last evening Lafayette Hall, on Wood, near Fourth street, was well filled by our Irish fellow-citizens, to hear Brig. Gen. O'Neil, who distinguished himself last summer on the border, during the raid upon Canada, when with a few hardy followers he put to flight the "Queen's Own," a "crack" Canadian militia corps. Dr. Donnelly, of the Third ward, presided and introduced the General to the audience.

Gen. O'Neil was greeted with great cheering, which having subsided, he proceeded to address himself to his fellow-countrymen in a calm and deliberate manner. The chief point in his remarks was unity among the Irish people in the United States and in Ireland, as essential to success in any future effort that may be made for the freedom of Ireland. The lack of it had brought about defeat in the past, and they now should learn a lesson from their experience and act accordingly. He especially warned them against having prejudiced against one another for religious sake. The Irish Roman Catholic and the Irish Protestant must shake hands and be friends, and stand shoulder to shoulder in the coming struggle. They must not forget that Emmett and many other Irish martyrs were Protestants, and died for the Catholic as well as for those of their own religious faith. And Irishman who kept up hostilities on religious grounds must be suspected of bad faith in his pledges to stand by Ireland in her struggles to be free. There was no common sense in these bickerings, on the contrary, they were very dangerous to the cause in which they were engaged. The freedom of Ireland was yet a question of time. Revolutions never go backward. The Independence of Ireland was well worth all the could sacrifice in order to obtain it. It must come, sooner or later, and with it the highest blessings of civilization to a brave and generous people, who, for long generations have suffered from English misrule.

The General retired amidst laud applause.

A number of persons then went forward and subscribed to the Fenian Fund, and quite a body of them enrolled their names for admission into the civil and military Fenian circles of this city. The meeting was then adjourned.

Body Identified---Coroner's Inquest.

Coroner Clawson was summoned to hold an inquest, yesterday morning, on the body of the colored man, who was found floating in the Allegheny river, opposite Lawrenceville, on Tuesday evening. It was identified by several acquaintances as the body of Richard H. Lancaster, barber of the steamboat Echo, whom we mentioned several days ago, as having been drowned near Irwin's Vitriol Works. It appears that at the time he was drowned, he was boxing on the lower deck with another colored man, and stepping back fell into the river, and it is supposed came up under the wheel of the boat, as there was a large cut in his head, which had the appearance of being made in that manner. The body was considerably decomposed, and was recognized by his friends by a pearl-handled knife, which he carried in his pocket. Several witnesses were examined, and the inquest adjourned to meet at the Mayor's office at half-past seven o'clock to-morrow evening. Lancaster was a barber by trade, and had resided in this city for about seventeen years. His wife and only child died some time ago. He has a mother residing near Alliance, Ohio.

Good Templar's Presentation.

The regular meeting of Union Temple of Honor No. 28, held in their Hall, in the Fifth ward, last evening, was one of unusual interest. Large delegations were present from Evening Star No. 59, Morning Star No. 25, and Corinthian No. 33. After the regular business of the evening had been transacted, B. A. Stoney, P. W. C. T. of Evening Star Temple was introduced, who, after some preliminary remarks, pertinent to the occasion, produced a beautiful hunting cased silver watch of American manufacture, and in a neat and pithy address, presented the same to D. D. G. W. T. Samuel Ellison, on behalf of Union Temple No. 28, as a small token of their appreciation of his services in the cause of Temperance, and more especially as exemplified in his untiring zeal and invaluable aid rendered in calling Union Temple into existence. Suitable thanks were returned on behalf of the recipient by J. B. Bennett, P. W. C. T., of Evening Star Temple. A beautifully framed chart of the order was then presented to Union Temple on behalf of Morning Star Temple in an appropriate speech by Andrew Dalzell, P. W. C. T., and happily responded to by P. W. G. T. James McCandless and W. C. T. Frank Parkinson. After several short addresses by various members of the order, the meeting then adjourned.

ARRIVAL OF COL. RIDDLE'S REMAINS.—The remains of our gallant and lamented townsman, Colonel William Riddle, arrived at the Union Depot yesterday morning at nine o'clock, on the first train from Philadelphia, accompanied by his immediate family, under escort of Colonels Meade, Sanders and others, of the United States Army. A procession, composed of a large number of the relatives and friends of the deceased, and a large concourse of citizens, among whom were the Mayor, Hon. Wm. C. McCarthy, Ex-Mayor J. R. McClintock, Gen. J. B. Sweitzer, Col. R. B. Roberts, together with a number of other officials, ex-officials and soldiers, was formed, and the body escorted to the Allegheny Cemetery. The ceremonies were very solemn and impressive.

SOLDIERS' LEAGUE.—A large meeting of the Allegheny County Soldiers' League was held on Tuesday evening, at their hall in Allegheny. Several members were initiated, and a large number of applications for membership were received and favorably acted upon. The thanks of the League were returned to a number of persons, for contributions to the Library. An eloquent and forcible address was delivered by Mr. Jones, after which the League adjourned.

A WAIF.—One of the members of the night watch found a male infant, wrapped up in a basket, on the door steps of Mr. Martin Connely, on Penn street, on Tuesday night. It was conveyed to Captain Lewis's office, and subsequently removed to the home of a policeman, in whose family it will be kept for the present.

THE JUMPING MATCH.—Norman P. Bortle, of New York, who accepted the challenge of Robert Way, of this city, to a jumping contest for the Championship of America and one thousand dollars a side, arrived in this city on Tuesday, accompanied by his backer, Charles Perkins. The contest will take place at the Union Skating Park, Allegheny, in a few days.

ANNIVERSARY MEETING.—The sixth anniversary meeting of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Home for the Friendless will be held in Rev. Ott's church, Anderson street, Allegheny, this afternoon, at three o'clock. A general invitation to be present is extended to the public.

SWORN INTO OFFICE.—J. C. Hunter, Esq., of Greensburg, confirmed as Register in Bankruptcy for the Twenty-first Congressional District, filed his bond in the United States District Court yesterday, and took the oath of office.

JAIL IMPROVEMENTS.—The floor of the corridor of the female department of the county jail, which was being replaced, has been completed. Workmen are now engaged in making the same improvement in the jail office.

MANCHESTER RAILWAY.—The double track on the Manchester Passenger Railway, in Manchester, for the Rebecca street line, has been completed.

Public Amusements.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—The beautiful play of "Messalliance" was presented last evening to a full and fashionable house, and Mrs. Lander charmed her audience, as a matter of course, by her delightful impersonation of Leoni Arnold. She was ably supported by Mr. Taylor and the stock company, and the performance throughout was excellent. To-night Mrs. Lander will appear as "Pauline," the haughty Lady of Lyons, Mr. Taylor personating "Claude Melnotte."

OPERA HOUSE.—Mr. Ward did not have as good an audience last evening as he deserved. Mr. Gallagher's impersonation of Virginius was very fair, and elicited cordial applause. Mr. Ward was presented yesterday by Mr. Hartel, with a beautiful set of gold sleeve buttons.

This evening, the handsome and accomplished young actress, Miss Florence La Fond, will have a benefit, and she presents a fine bill of attractions. Miss La Fond has been here but a few weeks, yet in that time has delighted thousands by her performances, and made many friends.

THE TREASURER'S NIGHT.—The patrons of the Opera House will bear in mind that on Saturday evening the attentive and courteous Treasurer, Harry Overington, will have a benefit. Occupying, perhaps, the most laborious and thankless position about the establishment, Harry is always prompt in the line of his duty and affable to all with whom he is brought in contact. As the Opera House season will terminate Saturday evening, he proposes to take a few weeks relaxation, and his friends contemplate assisting him on the occasion of his benefit in order that he may have material aid wherewith to enjoy himself. To this end they rely upon a general response from the people whom the beneficiary has served, and expect such an attendance as will crowd the Opera House in every part. Weather favorable, Mr. Overington will have just such a house.

FOURTH OF JULY.—Mr. John M. Kenney, business manager of the grand exhibition, to be given on the Fourth of July, at the Union Skating Park, Allegheny, has arrived, and commenced his preparations for the same. A splendid exhibition may be expected.

Religious Intelligence.

A gracious work of revival is going on among the Presbyterian congregations in this vicinity.

The Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Convention adjourned to meet in this city, in May, 1868.

Rev. John B. Clark, D. D., acknowledges a contribution of eighty dollars to the China U. P. Mission, collected through Miss Eliza J. Hall, by the ladies of the U. P. Congregation. They design to aid in reinforcing Rev. J. C. Nevin, the Missionary to China, and not for his support. These ladies hope that the female members of the church will be instrumental in raising enough to send out a new missionary to China without delay.

The Rev. Dr. Denham, of Londonderry, and the Rev. Dr. Hall, of Dublin, two of the most distinguished ministers of Ireland, who are on a visit to this country, are on their way to Pittsburgh, and will occupy several of our city pulpits next Sabbath. Dr. Denham will preach in the morning in Dr. Jacobus's church, on Smithfield street, and in the evening in the church of the Rev. Col. J. B. Clark, D. D., corner of Stockton avenue and Sandusky street, Allegheny. Dr. Hall will preach in the morning in Dr. Howard's church, on Penn street, and in the church of Rev. E. E. Swift, on Beaver street, Allegheny, in the evening. We may remark that these genlemen are accompanied by that well known Christian philanthropist, George H. Stewart.

At the recent meeting of the Mercer U. P. Presbytery, Rev. J. H. Peacock was received from the Presbytery of Steubenville. A call for one-half time, from Centre congregation, was presented and by him accepted.

The First U. P. congregation of Wilmington, have issued a call to Rev. J. K. Miller to become the pastor.

A special meeting of the Mercer U. P. Presbytery will be held in New Castle, on the first Monday of July, at 7½ o'clock, P. M., to consider the subject of Sabbath School conventions and Presbyterial visitation.

The Rev. J. P. Fulton was installed pastor of the united congregations of Pulaski and Hopewell, by a Committee of the U. P. Presbytery of Beaver, on the 28th and 29th of May. The installation took place at Hopewell on the 28th, and in this service the Rev. W. C. Falconer, of Sharon, preached the sermon, and the Rev. D. C. Reed, of Unity, presided, and gave the charges to the pastor and people. At Pulaski the Rev. Absalom McCready presided, and gave the charge to the pastor, and the Rev. Dr. D. X. Junkin preached the sermon, and gave the charge to the people.

Base Ball Match.

A match game of base ball was played on the West Commons, Allegheny, on Wednesday, between the Empire of the Fourth ward, Pittsburgh, and the Active, of Allegheny, which resulted in the defeat of the latter. The score stood as follows:

Information Wanted.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

Will you oblige the public and one who is frequently interested financially, with information as to the legal rates of charge allowed to hack-drivers and others who stand for hire at several places in our city. Also, is there any provision of our city code which can be enforced in regard to obstructing the sidewalks for days, weeks and months at a time, by leaving the same articles lying upon them and further, are wheelbarrows legall, entitled to the use of the sidewalk. Respectfully, ANTI-IMPOSITION.

If "Anti-Imposition" will apply at the Mayor's office, the desired information will be furnished him. The ordinance relative to hack drivers has undergone so many changes, that correct information relative thereto can only be had at the Mayor's office.

POLICE INTELLIGENCE.

[Before Mayor Morrison, of Allegheny.]

ASSAULT ON CHILDREN.

Mrs. Margaret J. Richmond appeared yesterday and made information against one William Boyd, for assault and battery. She alleged that defendant assaulted her children, while sitting on the steps of her dwelling in the Second Ward, Allegheny, on Monday night, striking one of them with a stick and beating and abusing another child, who had his arm paralyzed. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

BREACH OF THE PEACE.

Mary Beaser lodged complaint against one Mary Rubbs, for breach of the peace. The parties are next-door neighbors, and the prosecutrix alleges that the defendant has been in the habit of annoying her, calling her violent and obscene names and disturbing the peace of the neighborhood. The accused has not yet been arrested.

[Before Alderman Neville, of Allegheny.]

WIFE DESERTION.

Mrs. Sarah Rough appeared yesterday and instituted suit against Emanuel Rough, her husband, for desertion, alleging that he left her and refused to provide or contribute to her support. He was arrested, and in default of three hundred dollars bail, was committed to jail for a hearing to-day.

[Before Justice Ammon, of East Birmingham.]

SURETY OF THE PEACE.

Catherine Hecker made information against Margaret Gregory, charging her with surety of the peace. The parties reside at Beck's Run. A warrant was issued for the accused. Mary Murphy made information against Frances Gregory, charging him with surety of the peace. Mary alleges that the defendant called her names, and threatened to kick her. The parties had a hearing, and concluded that they would each pay a share of the costs, when the case was dismissed.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Louis Ireland, (colored,) made information against Jacob Ward, charging him with assault and battery. Ireland alleges that the defendant beat and otherwise abused him without any cause whatever. A warrant was issued for the accused.

Henry Everett made information against H. Schultz, charging him with assault and battery. A warrant was issued for the accused.

A Beautiful "Steinway."

It is a most gratifying sign to notice our rural districts filling up with the appliances of refinement and good taste. A wealthy citizen near Geneva, Fayette county, has just provided himself with one of those glorious three stringed Steinway square grand Pianos, which are considered the very acme of musical perfection, and to be the possessor of one of which any musical young lady would gladly renounce every other comfort and luxury. How a European traveler would stare to find Pianos in remote regions, the like of which are unobtainable by even their first musical magnates and crowned heads, unless, indeed, they were to send to Steinway & Sons, New York, or to H. Kleber & Bro., of this city, for them.

The Daily Commercial

THURSDAY, JUNE 6, 1867.

THE Republican masses in discriminating for good men to represent them in the Legislature, should make it a point to reward those who, at Harrisburg, have been faithful to their constituents. This is but simple justice to faithful and honest representatives. To strike down such men, or to permit them, for any reason, to be stricken down, would not only be unjust to them, but injurious to the work of reforming the Legislature. It is just to good men that they be recognized; and in times like these the constituency that fails to reward a faithful representative, lays itself liable to the suspicion that it does not deserve to have one.

THE oil shippers and the Pennsylvania Railroad are trying to adjust the rates of transportation, so that the refining business can be carried on in Pittsburgh, with the same advantages as in Cleveland and other places. Pittsburgh has decided advantages in facilities for getting the crude oil and for a supply of fuel for refining process. The moment the article is ready for market the difficulty of the refiner begins. The want of cheap transportation eastward is then felt. And it is felt so sensibly that dealers spoke, in their convention of Tuesday, of trying some other route. But what other route is there for them? Surely they do not think of sending their oil to the seaboard by way of Cleveland or Erie. The Pennsylvania road must, and no doubt will, graduate its prices with some reference to its own profits, and the interests of oil shippers cannot be expected to be made the first consideration. What may be the issue of the particular negotiation going on, we know not. We only notice the occasion for the purpose of calling attention again to the absolute need, for the prosperity of Pittsburgh, of enlarged facilities for eastward transportation.

THADDEUS STEVENS has written a letter wherein he intimates that claims for damages resulting from the war, if not satisfied by confiscating rebel property, should be paid out of the United States Treasury. Here is a question that should be met at once. It should be settled forever—and that, too, at the earliest moment—that not one cent shall be paid from the National Treasury to satisfy claims of this sort. Once opened, it would prove to be a bottomless pit, into which all the revenues for an incalculable number of years might be thrown, without so much as even the faintest echo returning. Many cases of great hardship doubtless there are; but they are but the sacrifices which citizens were called upon to make to save the Government. To undertake to recompense the few that can be specifically estimated, by taxing the many—all of whom, in a general way, have likewise suffered—should not be thought of, and would be found to be utterly impracticable. The war came suddenly, a calamity to all—in one way or another all have suffered; if some, more than others, the inequality is paralleled by a thousand things in life for which compensation is never dreamed of. Mr. STEVENS has started a vicious idea—one if permitted to obtain a foothold will prove the source of incalculable mischief.

PUBLIC BOUNTY TO SECTARIAN INSTITUTIONS.

We are indebted to the New York Herald for an interesting statement, showing the free distribution of public money for sectarian purposes in the State and city of New York. In 1866, State donations were made to about forty institutions of a charitable character, the benefactions ranging from $9 to a Lutheran Orphans' Home, to $8,940 to the Sisters of Charity at Buffalo. The aggregate of donations by the State to these forty institutions is $50,525, of which, says the Herald, "$45,674, or nine-tenths were received by the sect known as Roman Catholics; $2,484 by the Jews; and $2,367 by the different Protestant sects throughout the State." Besides this $78,500 was donated to the society for the protection of Roman Catholic orphan children. In 1867 this society had appropriated to it, by the State, a sum equal to $110 for each child in their establishment, amounting, it appears, to $80,000, which, under the law, was appropriated by the Board of Supervisors, the sum to be raised by general taxation in the city and county of New York.

On this subject, the following remarks are made:

"Here, then, we find that the sum of $129,025 19, was appropriated by the State of New York, during the year 1866, and wrung from the pockets of the over-burdened tax-payers—to aid sectarian institutions. That of the whole amount, the Roman Catholics received, $121,117 14! only shows the tendency of the evil. Our Legislature must either have been sympathizers with the tenets of the sect, or the Roman Catholics must have been more persistent in petitioning than other sects."

The Common Council have appropriated this year (1867) for sectarian purposes, in connection with the same sect, $120,000, chiefly for schools and hospitals. In 1863, the year of the riots, donations, general and special, were $105,000, of which $97,528 were for churches, asylums, &c., of the Roman Catholic church.

It is undoubtedly proper that a portion of the public money of States should be appropriated to charitable uses, under the supervision or the direction of the State. But for strictly sectarian or private institutions, under no responsibility or inspection of public money, whether the Protestant or Roman Catholic sect, must necessarily create dissatisfaction among the tax-payers. The above figures exhibit a case not to be contemplated with indifference.

MEXICO AND ITS PROSPECTS.

The break down of MAXIMILIAN does not, by any means, give assurance of the immediate, or even speedy establishment of peace and tranquility in Mexico. If it were so, the boon would be cheaply purchased, by the years of confusion and slaughter that have passed in that wretched country. Heartily as we have condemned his going thither and his usurpation of authority, it would be false to history, even in its most freshly written pages, to attribute to him, or to the European powers that manipulated his movements, all the confusion and conflict that have cursed Mexico for the last four years. The real and efficient causes of the disorders there are indigenous to the country, and exist in the population itself. For the same causes the South American Republics have been as much distracted as Mexico, although in them there has been no attempt to raise an Imperial throne, nor any foreign interference whatever.

It is evident that the Empire, in Mexico, has been supported by a powerful party of the natives of the country. Lately in enumerating the armed forces, at one point supporting the Imperial cause, it was said that 9,000, out of a force of less than 20,000 men, were recruits. That showed that to the last people were freely enlisting in the service of MAXIMILIAN. In fact his power, as to native support, has been in better condition since the French contingent withdrew than before. The people have been under such influences and habits, that while they enjoy fighting with each other, they have a common hatred to foreigners, and don't like their interfering in their quarrels. Hence they have, in the past two years, hated the American soldiers on their borders, as much as they did the French, within their boundaries.

That the suppression of the Empire, the capture of MAXIMILIAN, and the total overthrow of the diplomatic scheme will close the conflict in the country, is far from certain. It is but a few months since violent dissensions were reported among the Liberal leaders. The capacity of power, who is highest in the ascendant, for the reorganization and maintenance of the Republic, is much doubted. And not only does the probable removal of old dissensions, among the Liberals, threaten the continuance of popular commotions, but also the powerful and exasperated party that has adhered to MAXIMILIAN, will be likely to occasion conflicts in the country.

The remedy for these chronic and constitutional maladies of the nation has not yet been discovered, although many nostrums have been prescribed and applied. We are not responsible for them and are not bound to produce a cure. But we respectfully object and protest against taking the "sick man" to our bosom, as has been, by a very mistaken political philanthropy, recommended. There would be, in such case, far less probability of imparting health to that people than of contracting mortal contagion ourselves. The revival, on so large a scale, of the old barbarism of chaining a young and healthy person to a putrid corpse, we hope will not be attempted. We appeal to the constitution against any such "cruel and unusual punishment." We have causes of dissension enough ourselves, without taking in an effete nation's old sores by wholesale absorption.

IMPORTATION OF LABOR.

The Republican County Convention that met on Tuesday, in its supplementary resolution, passed after its legitimate business was done, while advocating the protection of home manufactures—the Republican doctrine—takes a position against the admission into this country of foreign laborers—a doctrine, we think, which is entirely new, and has never been proposed by any party. The Convention is exclusively entitled to whatever credit may be attached to it, whether for its originality or its intrinsic character. It quite outdoes anything contemplated by the famous Know-nothing party, which raised no objection to the importation of laborers, but only to the policy of making them voters as soon as they landed.

That such a resolution should have been passed, or even introduced, in any meeting held in Pittsburgh, where, probably one-half of the laborers receiving remunerative wages and increasing by their industry the business and the wealth of the city, are foreigners or the sons of foreigners, is surprising enough. It can only be accounted for on the supposition that it was meant to be in harmony with the recently expressed sentiment of an organ of the Trades' Unions—a most anomalous and inconsistent sentiment, we would suppose, to be avowed by the organ of Unions largely embracing foreign born laborers. Whether the resolution meets the assent and expresses the wishes of those Unions or not, we do not pretend to pronounce. But certain it is, that the principle and purpose of excluding foreign laborers, expressed in this resolution, have never been entertained by the Republican party. Its position and policy on the protection of American manufactures have been exactly the opposite. It has been said a thousand times, let the laborers come here, let them, laboring here, have protection, let their labor go to the improvement of this country and the development of its resources; lay a tax upon the products of labor done elsewhere, so as to encourage production here, and the introduction of labor instead of foreign products. This is familiar doctrine. But in the resolution referred to, it is said, keep out laborers, lay a tax to exclude them, and so far as that measure will go, cripple home manufactures and retard the improvement of the country and the development of its resources.

If the principle were correct, it would have been equally correct at any time for the past ten or twelve years. But it is easy to see, that our home manufactures would be in a very inferior condition from what they are, had it been applied ten or twelve years ago, as now proposed by this resolution. It is easy to see, that a large proportion of the productive labor now employed in this city and country, would have been still a part of the poorly paid labor of Europe, instead of the well paid labor of America. As a public policy, therefore, it stands out of sight below every article of the Republican faith, on the subject of protection. As an exhibition of personal generosity, we have nothing to say of it, but are willing to let it stand in the light in which it was placed by the one delegate of foreign birth who, with a few others, voted and spoke against it. He would not, having himself got into a desirable situation for remunerative labor, turn the key in the door by which he entered, in order to exclude his unfortunate countrymen left behind.

In common with all the Americans, we have an unmitigated horror at the thought of importing foreign paupers and criminals, the refuse of cities and countries of the Old World. We have a sentiment of shame, not unmixed with alarm, when we consider how largely our population has been mixed and our patriotism and morals adulterated, in this way, as shown in the records of pauperism and crime. But we maintain that for a large share of our material prosperity, for the extensive advances of agricultural industry and railroad construction, and for the improvement of the country in manufactures, we are much indebted to the foreign labor imported and made productive here—the very things that this absurd resolution proposes to prevent.

The resolution is restricted by the Convention to the single question of the importation of labor, that is, laborers. In this application, as connected with the material and financial progress of the country, it has been considered by others and held to embrace, in an important sense, the future of this country in its material aspects. And, whatever may be thought of large immigration in other respects, in this, to which the Convention confines its view, there is not a statesman or financier, or political economist, in the whole country that agrees with the Convention. Mr. McCULLOCH and all others who have exhibited their views on the subject, have expressed the belief that a large immigration of people, or, in other words, a large addition to the productive labor of the country, will greatly increase its wealth and, of course, facilitate the payment of its debt, and the opening up of its unproductive riches.

THE MEAT WE EAT—MORE OF IT.

Hardly a stock train reaches this market from the West, on which there are not more or less cattle, hogs and sheep with broken legs, or so enfeebled that they cannot be sent further East. The drovers are glad to get rid of these animals as soon as unloaded from the cars at any price.

A certain class of butchers are on hand, or represented by an agent, at the unloading of every stock train, to secure these animals; for they have been found to be very profitable to deal in. We know of at least two agents of dealers in fresh meats in this city who daily secure quite a number of hogs with broken limbs, nearly dead, and which the said agents, to prevent them from dying, often kill at once. They have a wagon made expressly to carry off these animals to a secure place for dressing. The next morning, before daylight, this diseased and poisonous meat is taken around to various meat shops throughout the city. Much of it goes to a certain class of dealers in the Diamond Market and to the Allegheny City Market. It is disposed of in the markets and in the shops at the same price at which first-class butchers sell the best meat.

Of course, as these facts become known—and we have permitted the public to obtain only a peep at the entire reality—people will be on their guard, and the villainous practice will measurably cease; but there can be no safety but in a thorough system of inspection by faithful and competent officers. For the benefit of our Allegheny friends, we will say that in some respects matters there are a little worse than in Pittsburgh.

BUSINESS DANGERS.

There has been felt in English financial circles for a year past a new sort of apprehension, or rather, it has been extended to a new field. The unexpected failure of the great house of OVEREND, GURNEY, & Co. occasioned some loss of confidence in the class to which it belonged—the heavy houses. A like effect was produced by the insolvency of some of the English railway companies. And still again the suspicion of possible weakness was extended to the large houses in the India trade, by failures among them. One firm, DENT & Co., which a few years ago estimated its assets at $25,000,000, recently made a bad failure, unable to pay twenty cents on the dollar.

In reference to this, a contemporary says, "If the mammoths of trade turn out so badly, what can the minnows hope for?" It is to notice this sentiment that we have referred to the above facts. It is, in our judgment, what we called the mammoth establishments, in business, that are the most apt to fail, when they carry along an amount of liabilities proportionate to the vast extent of their business. Such extensive works can scarcely be conducted with the same regard to economy and effectiveness, as those which are embraced in more moderate compass. They also involve greater risks of loss from unfaithful or incompetent agents. And, in case of unexpected difficulties, the magnitude of the liabilities renders it the more difficult to adjust, pay or postpone them.

Thus by extending business to the utmost possible limits, and with a narrow margin for contingencies, keeping credit constantly to its highest degree of tension, the business man who correctly estimates his assets at $25,000,000 is as liable to fail and be able, like DENT & Co., to pay only a half crown instead of a pound, as the man whose assets are but $25,000 or $2,500, and his liabilities proportionate. The extension of business is generally deemed evidence of prosperity. If, however, liabilities are increased in the same proportion, it is evident that the danger of embarrassment from sudden exigencies is increased also, and insolvency is no more surprising in the larger than in the smaller business.

A BEACON.

If anybody wishes to see, or is willing to see, what sort of a government, and what sort of a country we would have, most probably, were the Democratic party to regain the ascendancy and control, he has only to turn his unprejudiced eyes on the city of New York. Its municipal government, we learn from authentic sources, is about as far from honest and honorable as governments ever get. The entire taxable property of the people lies at the mercy, so far as taxation is concerned, of people who have no property and who pay no taxes, these being largely in the majority.

As a consequence of this condition of things, the revenues raised annually are immense, and the expenditure of them most reckless and extravagant. Thousands of petty offices are created for the benefit of the incumbents, belonging to the dominant party. Largesses are made with reference not to the public good, but the strength of the party. To meet these profuse disbursements, to say nothing of bogus contracts and direct peculations, which are loudly complained of in vain, the taxation of the property holding, industrious, business people is onerous and increasing.

It is not strange that the good people of that city should struggle to get from under the heel of this despotism of irresponsible numbers, by seeking the aid of the State Legislature, and by availing themselves of the political virtue of the general population of the State, which is not yet so contaminated as that of the city. But it is strange, almost beyond belief, that with such a beacon of warning, so conspicuously before the public eye, the party, already forsaken by many of its patriotic members, is not abandoned speedily by all the rest, who love their country more than any party, and who desire to perpetuate equal rights and constitutional liberty in the country.

THE failure of Frederick Jewett, wholesale dealer of heavy hardware in Chicago, is announced, and he has assigned to H. T. Helme, Esq. His liabilities amount to between $60,000 and $70,000; but it is believed that his assets will more than cover that amount.

CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE is accused—falsely, no doubt—of giving "Presidential Breakfasts" in Washington, and that he has been stimulated by a similar motive to hold court in the South. The Presidential maggot is at work in more than one brain at present. The animal, as usual, is more likely to kill than cure.

IN the Cincinnati Market two inspectors have been newly appointed. In a few hours the other day, they gathered up a large quantity of meat, poultry and fish, unfit to be sold, and threw the whole into the Ohio river. It is said the authorities there are determined to be strict. How much longer shall the citizens of Pittsburgh be poisoned for the want of a proper person as market inspector? Surely the present state of things reflects no credit on our public authorities.

THE conclusion reached by the Judiciary Committee on the impeachment question does not satisfy everybody—although it does very nearly. The Tribune's Washington dispatch says: "Messrs. Butler and Ashley, the two leaders for impeachment, feel badly over the result of deliberations of the committee, but they assert they will bring the question up in Congress, and have a square vote on it." The action of the Judiciary Committee shows conclusively that we will not have a July session of Congress unless some extraordinary event transpires between now and the fourth of next month. Those members of Congress who were most zealous in their endeavors to have a Summer session have become disheartened, and do not think there is the slightest chance for it. The Judiciary Committee will merely meet formally, and adjourn until the latter part of November, when they will make their report.

A LOUISVILLE paper, the Courier, is thrown into something of a fright and fury, by the well meant and enterprising endeavors of a school-book agent, to introduce a new set of text-books into the schools of the city. It does not appear that the editor has examined the books at all—nor does he ground his objection to them on anything intrinsic in themselves—but "the head and front of their offending is this, no more"—that they are "Yankee books." Whether they are published in Cincinnati, which is quite a Yankee place as well as a great place for school books, or in Boston, the objection is equally well grounded, and equally fatal in the estimation of the Courier. The Rule of Three in the arithmetic is a Yankee rule of three, the Grammatical parts of speech, the Algebraic signs, and even the A B C's are all spoiled for Kentucky use, by being Yankeefied.

It appears—to the Editor's dismay and horror—that some of the Louisville School Board favored the introduction of the candidate text books, probably after an intelligent examination of them. Whereupon the standard ring of the Editor's civilization sounds out again in unequivocal tones, by a proposition that such members of the School Board as approved of the Yankee books should be "drummed out of the city."

THE Liberals, of England, have achieved a signal victory in the vote on that amendment of their bill which provides that no town shall be entitled to a separate representation in the House of Commons, unless it has a population of seven thousand. This entirely abolishes the rotten boroughs. Under the old system Droitwich, represented by Sir John Pakington, has not quite seven thousand, while Salford has nearly one hundred and fifty thousand and but one representative. Other constituencies are said to be still more unequal. The vote, on this amendment, was one hundred and twenty-seven majority in its favor. Four months ago the most radical could not have hoped for this. By the new bill, tenants are required to pay their taxes, personally, to collectors instead of to landlords, as before, and every one occupying a house at $60 per annum is entitled to vote. The property qualification is gradually giving way before the spirit of the age, but suffrage without property is seldom, as yet, proposed. When the amount is brought down to the standard proposed, in Franklin's day, in this State, a horse, or a mule, and legislators come to decide whether it will be the man or the mule which shall deposit the ballot, they will soon come to manhood suffrage. In the meantime, their slow and steady progress is encouraging.

New Work by Mr. Greeley.

The New York Gazette says: An important historical work is now in course of preparation, by Horace Greeley, of the Tribune, and Frank Moore, of the Rebellion Record, upon the "Negro in America" and his influence in the history of the country. It is the intention of the editors, we are informed, to make a thorough historical examination of the social, moral, religious, literary and political character of the black man from his introduction to the continent to the present time, and to present the same in an appropriate manner to the reading public of America.

Dullness in New York.

A New York letter says: By common consent we are now entering upon the dullest period of the year. So many of our leading men have gone to Europe, and so many more are about to leave with their families for the watering places and other summer resorts, that the great metropolis from now till about the end of August may be considered from home. In the fashionable as in the business world, there is a dead halt. The fashionable weddings have ceased, and nobody but the vulgar are giving parties or receptions. The merchants generally say they are not making money enough to pay rent or clerk hire, but if the crops should turn out abundant, they say the West will be a profitable customer towards the end of August. From the South but little is hoped, though it is thought that times there, commercially and politically, have now about seen their worst, and that the future must necessarily witness an improvement.

LITERARY ITEMS.

The fifth and last volume of Bunsen's large work upon "Egypt's Place in the World's History," a posthumous book of great learning, has just appeared in London.

Ali Haider Bey, a Turkish dramatist and translator, has just written a new piece, in three acts, and in Turkish verse, which he calls "The Princess Noon." The period is that of Samiramis, and the play is said to be the first tragedy that has ever appeared in the Turkish language.

The eighth and last volume of M. Guizot's memoirs has appeared. The author mentions that he might, had he so pleased, have been made a Spanish Grandee or a Duke of France. The Queen of Spain offered him the first dignity in 1846, and on his refusing it, Louis Phillipe proffered the second. M. Guizot refused both, admitting, however that he had no contempt for titles. "Two Royal portraits," he adds, "and a charming little picture by Murillo, are the only presents that I ever received for the Royal marriages."

On Count de Falloux, Director of the French Academy, waiting the other day on the Emperor to announce the election by that body of MM. Jules Favre and Father Gratry, his Majesty observed: "The Academy wished to give a proof of Christian charity when it united on a single vote two men constituted so decidedly to remain separate everywhere else." "Sire," replied M. de Falloux, "the Academy is the republic of letters; it is a neutral ground, where from all time the most contrary opinions have fraternized. It named the Frondeurs under Louis XIV., and the Philosophers under Louis XV."

The seventy-eighth anniversary dinner of the subscribers to the Royal Literary Fund recently took place at Willis's Rooms. Dean Milman occupied the chair, and the company included many persons of eminence in literature, or of high social position. The chairman delivered an address in connection with the chief toast, "Prosperity to the Royal Literary Fund;" and an extract was read from the report, from which it appeared that, during the year, 49 persons had been relieved, comprising 33 males and 16 females, who had received together £1,605. He also read a list of the subscriptions and donations, which amounted altogether to about £700, including a donation of 100 guineas, being the thirtieth of a like amount from the Queen.

The following pensions on the Civil List, which exhausts the amount available for the current year, have been recently granted: £100 a year to Mrs. Chisholm, in consideration of the valuable and disinterested services rendered by her to emigrants in New South Wales; £100 a year to the family of the late Dr. Petrie, being pensions at the rate of £25 a year to each of his four daughters, in consideration of the eminent services rendered by him to archæological science, both as an author and a public servant; £160 a year to Lady Harris, widow of Sir William Snow Harris, in consideration of her husband's valuable invention in the system of lightning conductors; £100 a year to the Rev. Miles Joseph Berkley, on account of his eminent services, as a botanist, to practical horticulture and agriculture; £95 a year to Mr. George Cruikshank, on account of his great merit as an artist.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., May 29th, 1867.

MESSRS. FAHNESTOCK & HOLTON:
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Gentlemen—This is to certify that I have been a sufferer with Chronic Diarrhoea for about eighteen months, and have tried several different remedies recommended for this class of disease, and have been treated by different Physicians, and they all failed to effect a cure. About four weeks ago I was recommended to try Mishler's Herb Bitters, and I bought one bottle and have used its contents; am happy to say that I feel myself entirely cured, and quite a different man. It has arrested the complaint, and effected, I think, a permanent cure. I must add that my case was so bad that I was prevented from attending Church for some time. I am now using the Bitters on my daughter for a disease of the blood, which arose from Diptheria, having caught a severe cold while suffering with Diptheria. You are at liberty to publish the above if you see proper.

Yours truly, H. WALTER.

FILES! FILES!

THE AUBURN FILE WORKS

AUBURN, NEW YORK,

Would call the attention of manufacturers and those using Files and Rasps to the superior article of HAND CUT FILES, which they are now making from the best quality of Cast Steel, consisting of Flat, Hand, Mill, Saw, Round, Half Round, Square, Taper Saw Files, Horse Rasps, and all other kinds, which are in no respect inferior to any now made.

It accords neither with our taste or our principle to assert that our Files have never been approached by any other manufacturer. The Files must speak for themselves, and those who wish to purchase largely are sufficiently wise to accept the evidence of the files rather than the assertion of the manufacturers.

Your orders may be left with T. H. RICHARDS, Esq., 30 Fifth street, Pittsburgh, where samples of some of the principal kinds may be examined and prices obtained. Your orders will be carefully executed at the manufactory, and warranted to give satisfaction or Files returned.

We have permission to refer to the Pittsburgh Novelty Works, who are now using our work to their entire satisfaction. Under date of November 28, 1867, they say:

"The files give general satisfaction in regard to temper and cut. The only objection we find is, "they are cut too fine for our use. A coarser cut "would suit us better. Please remember this when "we send another order."

Also of May 6th, 1867, enclosing draft for $183 73.

"Your Files give satisfaction, and you have permission to use our name in regard to their "quality."

Please call and examine samples before placing your orders.

—Bishop Tuttle, recently chosen to the See ...Montana, Idaho and Utah, is at Omaha, en ...te for Salt Lake, with a small company of ...ssionaries and teachers to establish a mission ...hool in that city. Reports from missionaries ...eady there are encouraging. They are re...ving kind treatment and much consideration ...on heads and members of the Mormon ...urch. The Bishop has a letter from Secre...y Stanton who is deeply interested in the ...rk.

—The New York Gazette says: "President ...hnson complains bitterly of the restrictions ...aced on him by Congress. Said he, recently, ...a gentleman, 'I am like a bird in a cage, and ...that I can do is to bite the wires.' If there ...any satisfaction in biting, let him do it.

—The London Owl announces that a marriage is arranged between Horace Rumbold, Esq., Her Majesty's Secretary of Legation at Berne, and Miss Harrington, daughter of the United States Minister at the same place, and late Under Secretary of the Treasury; and between Mrs. Montgomery Ritchie, daughter of the late General Wadsworth, of the United States Volunteer Army, and Mr. John Adair, of Belgrove, county Kildare, Ireland.

—Some of the Washington diplomatists think that Juarez may make a good thing of Maximilian by ransoming in place of shooting him. Maximilian's mother, the Dowager Empress Sophia, of Austria, is immensely rich, and as much as $50,000,000 could be paid if it were demanded.

—Gen. Neal Dow was recently asked by a venerable Englishman when the United States Government was going to pay off the rebel bonds. His answer was, "When you pay off the Fenian bonds."

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, PA., (late Pittsburgh Trust Company,) Capital 500,000, paid in, with privilege to increase to $1,000,000.

The Pittsburgh Trust Company having organized under the Act to provide a National Currency, under the title of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, would respectfully offer its services for the collection of Notes, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, &c.; receive money on deposit, and buy and sell Exchange on all parts of the country.

The success which has attended the Pittsburgh Trust Company since its organization in 1852, will, we believe, be a sufficent guarantee that business entrusted to the new organization will receive the same prompt attention.

Having a very extensive correspondence with Banks and Bankers throughout the country, we believe we can offer unusual facilities to those who do business with us.

The business will be conducted by the same officers and directors.

James Hamill in New York—Brown Not Yet Heard From—Another Claimant for the Championship.

The New York Clipper for the present week contains the following:

Much to the disappointment of the public, the fair and manly proposition from Jimmy Hamill, offering to row Walter Brown on the Schuylkill, at Philadelphia, the Harlem River, New York, or even on the Charles River, Boston, for $2,000 a side, without asking a cent for expenses, has met with no kind of a response. Why, we do not understand; but certain it is that unless he does respond, the "laurels," supposed to have been won by him in his late match will soon tarnish, and be "as sounding brass and tinkling cymbals." We are inclined to believe that Brown is not the of the manner of men who, simply because they happen to win a race, "retire" from the business; but in a dispute like the present presume that he will be the more anxious to get on again, and try to win on his merits in an honorable, straight forward way. At least we hope so. Concerning Hamill, he is still eager for another trial, and to this end left Pittsburgh on Saturday, and on Monday waited long and anxiously to see if we had received any word from Brown. As up to the hour of going to press not a soul appeared on Brown's behalf, Hamill has concluded to remain until Wednesday, the 5th inst., lest Walter's club swinging engagement may have prevented his replying in person or by deputy. Jimmy is willing to do almost anything to induce Brown to row him again, but hardly knows what other proposition he can make other than those published in his card of last week. He may be waiting for Brown to make his proposals, in the meantime holding out a "flag of truce." One thing is certain, Hamill is here, and wants a fair chance to pull just once more against Brown, and will never be satisfied till he does. We shall wait another week for Brown's answer, and then speak more forcibly on this subject. As an inkling that others beside Hamill have an idea that Brown is not impregnable, we call attention to the subjoined document:

ROWING CHALLENGE FROM WM. JOHN MEKEEL.

To the Editor of the New York Clipper—Dear Sir: Having a desire to try conclusions with some of the aquatic champions, I hereby offer to row either James Hamill, Walter Brown, or any other oarsman in the country a five mile sculling match, two and a half mile to a stake boat and return, for $1,000 a side, in four weeks from the first deposit. The race to be rowed on the Hudson river, at Sing Sing, Peekskill, Newburgh, Poughkeepsie, Hudson, Albany or Troy. To prove that I mean business, I have this day (June 3) deposited $100 in the hands of Mr. Frank Queen. Any one accepting the same will cover that amount, and by naming a time and place for signing articles, I shall be prepared to increase the amount at any reasonable time. This challenge to remain open for ten days from date.

Yours, etc., WM. JOHN MEKEEL.
June 3, 1867.

THE LATE LIEUT. COL. RIDDLE.

Origin of the Difficulty which Caused his Death.

An investigation into the cause of the difficulty which resulted in the death of Lieut. Col. Wm. Riddle has developed a series of facts that show he was brutally and inhumanly attacked, when on a business visit to the house of Wm. J. Ovens, Assessor of the Seventh ward, Philadelphia. From the sworn testimony of John S. Riddle, brother of the deceased, it seems that Col. Riddle called upon Ovens to have an assessment paper altered from his name to that of his mother, as the property set forth in the paper belonged to his mother.

Mr. Riddle testifies that after making known the object of their visit, Ovens said, "Won't you stand up for your mother?" My brother answered, "Most certainly I stand up for my mother where it is necessary, and on all occasions where it is legal. In this case she is the owner of a house and furniture, and wishes the assessment in her own name." Ovens repeated, "You don't want to go back on your mother?" My brother said, "No, Mr. Ovens, I came here to transact a simple matter of business, not to be insulted. I desire to know, specifically, whether I can fill out this blank form in my mother's name, to which you have put mine." Ovens returned, "Oh! I see you want to get out of paying your mother's taxes. I believe you to be a loafer." My brother said, "Come, Jack; we can't make Mr. Ovens understand what I wish, and he seems not to desire to understand us." We then went to the front door, and Ovens went behind the bar, and put in a drawer the blank form we had left. My brother turned back and said, "Mr. Ovens, please let me again see that paper?" Ovens said, "No; I'll attend to you—I'll fix you."

He came round from behind the bar when he said this he advanced to us, laid his hand on my brother's shoulder, and squaring off, said, "I think you're a d——d loafer;" in the meantime the man in the back room, with whom he had been drinking, followed to the door; he laid his hand on Ovens's arm and attempted expostulation; "what are you talking about, in that way?" asked he; Ovens raised his fist, saying, "G—d d——n you, go away from me; I know what I am doing;" Ovens then repeated to my brother, "You are a G—d d——d loafer;" I had not spoken before; I now said to Ovens, "My brother came here on business, not to quarrel; he is no loafer, he is a gentleman;" Ovens insisted, "He is a d——d loafer, and you are another one, G—d d——n you;" he at the same time struck at me with his fist; I warded off the blow and knocked him down; the other men then fell upon us; Ovens got up and came at me again; I knocked him down a second time, but whether with fist or cane I do not know; at that instant my brother seized a pitcher and struck at a man named Robert Gamble, who was fighting with Ovens, and feeling about his vest as if for a concealed weapon.

About this time the door was opened from the outside, and two other men ran in; (witness described them;) a general fight ensued; up to this time my brother was uninjured, except by a blow from an umbrella; a man then came behind him with a weapon that I suppose to have been a billy; he struck my brother on the head with it; I fear that I could not identify him; the pitcher fell from my brother's hand, and he sank upon the floor; I knocked the man's head against the door, and then knocked him out of it into the street. Some one got the pitcher and dashed it at me twice; it hit me upon the arm both times; my brother was going out, when the same pitcher was thrown at him; then I saw blood for the first time streaming down his neck; I then received two more blows, one from a pitcher, the other from a billy; I also received a whack from a woman, inflicted with a cane.

The inquest was adjourned until Thursday afternoon, when it will be renewed on the return of Mr. Riddle from this city.

Thomas Fergus vs. Samuel McCune. This was an action to recover the value of two hogsheads of bacon, alleged to have been rolled from the wharf, at the borough of Elizabeth, into the Monongahela river, through the alleged carelessness of a minor son of defendant, who had been employed to remove a large lot of bacon belonging to plaintiff. Verdict for plaintiff for $190.

Joseph Barton, guardian of David Thompson and others vs. Joseph Barton, administrator of Mary Thompson, deceased. Verdict for plaintiff for $1,500, to be released upon the payment of $780.

COMMON PLEAS.—Before Judge Stowe.

Jacob Lashell and Robert Kendall vs. Henry Robinson, Thomas Tryford and Wm. Leaman. Action to recover damages under a contract to deliver a quantity of potatoes. On trial.

In the case of George Blackstock vs. G. W. Gerdes, a motion for a new trial was made and reasons filed therefor.

THE LIQUOR COURT.—The County Commissioners were in session yesterday hearing applications for tavern and eating house licenses. Eighty-one petitions were presented from this city, and the entire day was consumed in their consideration. About one-half the number were granted, and several were held under advisement.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS.—Before Judge Stowe.

Yesterday morning Theodore Parker Lyman was arraigned for the larceny of an overcoat, valued at sixty dollars, the property of Mr. J. Brush. In October last, Mr Massey's dying and scouring establishment, on Fourth street, was entered and robbed of a large quantity of wearing apparel, among which was the coat in question. Lyman was arrested on suspicion of having committed the robbery, tried and acquitted. He then visited the Mayor's office and demanded the coat, which had been taken from him by the police, but as it had in the meantime been identified by Mr. Brush, he was again arrested and committed to jail to answer a charge of larceny. He was found guilty on the charge, when his counsel succeeded in securing him a new trial, which came up yesterday. The case was ably argued, on both sides, but the jury, being convinced of his guilt rendered a verdict of guilty. The prisoner was remanded for sentence.

The balance of the session was consumed in hearing surety of the peace and other trifling cases.

THE LATE STABBING AFFAIR.—John Hensler, who was committed to jail a few days since for felonious assault and battery, in the stabbing of Wm. F. Barclay, in Duquesne Borough, one night about a week since, was released by Court on Tuesday on giving five thousand dollars bail for his appearance for trial, it being represented that the injured man was out of danger. Mr. Barclay's condition became wrose yesterday, and the physicians in attendance are of the opinion that he cannot recover. Hensler was accordingly rearrested, and is now in jail awaiting the result of Barclay's injuries.

ADMITTED TO THE BAR.—Yesterday morning in the Common Pleas and District Courts, on motion of Wm. C. Moreland, Esq., John H. Kerr, Esq., of this city, was sworn and duly admitted to practice in the several courts of the county. Mr. Kerr studied law in the office of Messrs. Hampton & Moreland for about two years, and passed a searching and rigid examination in the most satisfactory manner.

The Lennox Trial—Interesting Scene in Court.

A few days since, in the Washington county Court, Judge Acheson called the attention of Hon. Wm. Montgomery to the fact that the jury which had tried the case of John Lennox, had handed to the Court a paper in relation to some remarks he had chosen to make about them when Lennox was arraigned for sentence, and stated that as the paper contained matters which were wholly personal to him he would hand it to him without reading, in order that he might make such response as he thought proper. Mr. Montgomery said that it contained nothing he was afraid of, nor was not ready to answer, and asked the Judge to read it. The paper set forth that the jury felt themselves greatly wronged by the infamous slanderous charge of perjury which had been made upon them in open Court by Mr. Montgomery, and appealed to the Court to vindicate them from the charge, and require Mr. Montgomery to make amends by retracting the same. This course, they said, was due not only to themselves, but to the protection of future juries who could not feel safe from the attacks of Mr. Montgomery so long as he stood unrebuked for his conduct.

On hearing this paper read, Mr. Montgomery at once rose and stated that he had made no such charge against the jury—that he had only said he feared the verdict was the result of a compromise—that if it was, the jurors were guilty of moral perjury. He did not say that the jury had compromised away their convictions of right, but if they did, they had proven unfaithful to their oaths. He went on at considerable length to show that in a civil case, where only a matter of dollars and cents was in question, jurors might compromise, but it was otherwise where the guilt of a party accused of crime was involved.

Judge Acheson remarked that the Court felt at the time that the reflections cast upon the jury were altogether unwarranted, and he had accordingly interposed and stopped Mr. Montgomery as soon as he could. Making all due allowance for the zeal and earnestness of counsel, he must say that such imputations as Mr. Montgomery had indulged in were not justified by the facts, for he had never known a jury that he thought had labored more honestly, faithfully and conscientiously to discharge their duty than the one that tried this case. As Mr. Montgomery, however, had made his response disclaiming any intention to charge the jurors with perjury, he hoped the matter would end here.

RESULT OF A QUARREL.—A fight occurred on East Lane, Allegheny, on Tuesday afternoon, between a one-handed soldier and a man named Wilson. The quarrel resulted from too frequent potations of bock beer. During the fight the soldier "punched" Wilson in the ribs with the stump of his arm with such force as to fracture his ribs. Wilson was removed to the Mayor's office, where he yet remains. He will be sent to the Allegheny City Home until he recovers from his injuries. The soldier made good his escape.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, June 5, 1867.

—There is no change in monetary affairs. It is gratifying to learn that the public debt, notwithstanding the diminution in revenue, has been reduced during the past month to the extent of nearly five millions. The receipts from miscellaneous sources far exceeded the expectations of Secretary McCulloch. The unexpected increase occurred at the latter part of the mouth. The receipts from internal revenue also in the latter part of the month were unexpectedly heavy, amounting to more than two and a half millions of dollars more than Commissioner Rollins had estimated some two weeks ago. The requisitions from the Departments, were much less than the Secretary of the Treasury had reason to expect from indications about a month ago. These unexpected results have left a heavy currency balance and caused also a diminution of the public debt, as before suggested, of between four and five millions of dollars. Up until the foregoing facts were developed, it was supposed the debt would be increased almost as much as it now appears the amounts has been reduced.

—A private dispatch from Washington reports the following changes in the condition of the public debt, as shown by the statement of June 1st, compared with that of May 1st: 5-20's, increase $65,000,000; 7-30's, decrease $37,000,000; Compound Notes, decrease $1,000,000; United States Notes, decrease $1,000,000; Coin Certificates, decrease $2,000,000. The amount of coin in the treasury is stated at $81,000,000, and of currency at $71,000,000, against $33,000,000 on May 1st. If this last item, showing an increase of $38,000,000 in the currency balance, be correct, the present condition of the money market is readily accounted for.

—The Railway list to-day, as shown by Mr. Bryan's dispatches, makes the following exhibit:

—The following are the general revenues of the Government (gold and currency) for the first three quarters of the fiscal year, as compared with the previous year:

	1866-67	1865-66
First Quarter.
Customs	$50,843,774	$47,009,581
Taxes	99,507,448	96,649,997
Miscellaneous	8,210,164	18,967,131
Second Quarter.
Customs	37,803,027	39,216,338
Taxes	65,706,899	82,966,000
Miscellaneous	7,926,321	18,116,064
Third Quarter.
Customs	46,130,183	48,645,597
Taxes	49,672,094	67,299,195
Miscellaneous	14,084,730	11,893,401
Total July 1 to March 31	$379,884,640	$428,700,309
Fourth Quarter.
Customs estimated	40,223,016	46,175,132
Taxes	58,113,449	64,345,373
Miscellaneous	9,778,785	18,811,8[illegible]
Total	$488,000,000	$558,032,620

Our first estimate, at the beginning of the year, was for a gross revenue of $500,000,000, as against $558,032,620 the year before, viz:

	Estimate.	Actual and Est.
From Customs	$160,000,000	$17[illegible],000,000
Taxes	300,000,000	273,000,000
Miscellaneous	40,000,000	40,000,000
Total	$500,000,000	$488,000,000

The expenses of the Government for the fiscal year, now drawing to a close, will probably exceed the estimates from the various departments, submitted to Congress, in the annual report of the Secretary of the Treasury, by at least $37,791,607. For the three quarters they were as follows:

	First.	Second.	Third.	Total.
War	$13,833,214	$19,804,000	$28,335,504	$61,972,718
Navy	7,878,609	8,547,209	6,853,161	23,278,979
Pen. and Ind	11,787,975	1,479,604	7,714,046	21,081,625
Civil	11,893,736	12,539,284	11,818,613	36,251,625
Interest	33,865,400	37,769,330	40,000,000*	111,634,730
Total	$79,258,934	$80,139,427	$94,721,324	$254,219,685
Probable demands of fourth quarter				100,000,000
Total actual and probable				$354,219,685
Department estimates in December, 1866				316,428,078
Excess of expenditure				$37,791,607

*Partly estimated.

This would still leave $133,780,315 out of the revenues of the year as applicable to the reduction of the principal of the public debt. In the first ten months of the year the total of the debt was actually reduced as follows:

Public debt July 1, 1866	$2,650,538,330
Public debt May 1, 1867	2,520,786,096
Reduction in ten months	$129,752,234

MILWAUKEE FLOUR AND GRAIN MARKET.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

MILWAUKEE, WIS., June 3, 1867.

The Wheat and Flour market during the past week has been marked by important fluctuations, all having a general tendency downward, with unfrequent and temporary pulsations of improvement. With the decline in Wheat the amount of grain forwarded to this market has continued to be large, and the steady influx has knocked the bottom out of many a calculation. From highest to lowest, prices in Wheat have ranged from $2 63@2 26 for No. 2, with a slight revival at the eleventh hour, which brought it up to $2 35. Our surroundings guarantee no permanent improvement, and we are as patient as possible in these times of unsatisfactory markets, until the East finds stability and gives us a firmness which unassisted we are unable to establish; the various influences working upon the market in the way of foreign receipts, Pacific supplies, reduced consumption, and the hope of an early return from the more Southern markets, to say the least, induces a feeling of uncertainty worse almost than absolute decline.

The flour market has weakened too, and partly from lack of foundation in itself, and partly in sympathy with the declining condition of the wheat market, has declined in the past week from $1 00@1 50 ₱ bbl. This decline has been general throughout all grades, from the best city brands to the lowest qualities. Transactions have been light, and holders little disposed to part with their property at declining prices; buyers holding off for a further decline. As to advances, they seem to be based upon so many contingencies that the realization of them seems problematic, to say the least. Much depends upon whether the supply, which lately has been quite liberally forwarded from California, and which is put upon the market at reduced rates, can be continued in such quantities as to make the Eastern markets in a measure independent of the West, and fill all needs, foreign and domestic, up to the time of the earliest harvest. The present Eastern supply is in excess of the current wants of the market; and with the approach of warm weather, there can be no inclination to increase stocks but rather to diminish them. With prices above an export limit, closing off business in that direction which might draw off the supply, there seems to be potent reasons against an advance in breadstuffs; yet these speculations may be all wrong, and the market advance to prices for which it would be hard to give an explanation.

The report of crops from all sections is generally favorable, and the prospect of an abundant harvest, (far off, it is true,) gratifies producer and consumer. The high prices of wheat induced liberal planting of spring wheat, and the winter wheat growth is probably larger in the northwest than any year before. The backwardness of the spring has retarded considerably the growth of grain, yet the strength it is gaining, and the undergrowth prevented by the continuous wet weather, will develop it vigorously with the warm days, and protect it against the ravages of insects hereafter. Corn planting is backward, but will progress rapidly with settled weather. We give the following quotations of our markets to-day, though they will hardly be useful when you receive this letter Wheat irregular and lower; No. 1 in store $2 40; No. 2, $2 29@2 32; No. 3 $2 05. Flour dull and very heavy; city double extra, $12 00@13 00; country do. $10 25@11 00; extra $10 00@10 50; oats dull and nominally lower at 68c for No. 1. Corn quiet at $1 06 for No. 1 old; 97c for new. Rye unchanged at $1 34.

Receipts of wheat during the past week, amount to 156,096 bushels, against 99,341 bushels shipped, leaving a remainder in store somewhere in the neighborhood of 290,000 bushels.

Very Respectfully,
MOWER, CHURCH & BELL.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, WEDNESDAY EVENING, June 5, 1867.

Since our last report there has been no change of any importance in commercial affairs. There was no evidence exhibited to-day of any improvement in trade. As the season advances, business seems to be gradually dwindling away, and there is no prospect of an early resumption. The aggregate amount of business transacted, in our general markets, during the last few weeks, has been very light. Prices are generally rapidly declining. The most noticeable change has been in flour, which is now dull at a decline of $2 00 ₱ bbl from our quotations given some days since. The grocery business is reported dull at last quotations. There is some activity in bacon.

The receipts of some of the leading articles of produce, per river and rail, since our last, were as follows: Flour 924 bbls; cheese 169 boxes; corn 1,981 sacks; oats 1,137 sacks, and butter 66 packages.

We quote as follows, which are the wholesale prices until otherwise stated:

APPLES—The market is entirely bare of choice articles. The few of such may be quoted in demand at $9 00@10 50 ₱ bbl. Sales of single barrels were made as high as $12 00 ₱ bbl.

BUTTER—This article may be set down as a drug on the market, and only quotable at nominal prices. Sales were made of choice roll, from store, at 10@18c ₱ lb.

APPLE BUTTER—There has been considerable offering, from store, at 75c ₱ gallon, in small packages.

CHEESE—Market dull. Sales reported of Western Reserve at 14, 15 and 16c ₱ lb, and Goshen at 20c ₱ lb.

EGGS—The market is not well supplied, and we quote prices from store at 17@18c ₱ doz.

DRIED FRUIT—The market is overstocked with dried apples and peaches, and, as the warm weather approaches, holders are anxious to realize at nominal prices. Apples may be quoted at 6@8½c, and peaches at 10@14c ₱ lb.

FLOUR—There has been no change in the market since our last, when we noticed a decline of 25@50c ₱ bbl. Some dealers have considerable stock on hand, on which they are anxious to realize from fear of a still further decline. Good brands of spring may be quoted as selling from store, at $13@13 50 ₱ barrel; and medium, which is but little called for, at $11 50@12 25 ₱ barrel. The demand for winter wheat flour has been very light and dealers through the city are generally holding good brands at $15 25 ₱ bbl. The following are the

PEARL MILL PRICES.

Red wheat, extra Family, Lacock, ₱ bbl, $15 70, wholesale; $16 20, retail; $7 70 ₱ 100 lbs, wholesale; $8 05 ₱ 100 lbs, retail; $4 05 ₱ 50 lbs, retail; white wheat, double extra Family, Pearl Mill, ₱ bbl, $16 40, wholesale; $16 90 retail; $8 05 ₱ 100 lbs, wholesale; $8 40 ₱ 100 lbs, retail; $4 20 ₱ 50 lbs, retail.

CORN MEAL—We quote at $1 10@1 15 ₱ bush.

GRAIN—We have no reported sales of any kind of wheat. Prices are nominal and not quotable.

OATS—Sales were made from first hands at 65@68c ₱ bush and from store at 70c ₱ bush. The market is rather weak at these quotations.

CORN—The market is very dull. Ear is generally held at 90c and shelled at 95@96c, ₱ bush. From first hands ear would hardly bring more than 80c or shelled 85c ₱ bush.

RYE—We quote at $1 65 ₱ bush.

HAY—Farmers are sending forward large quantities of hay per wagon, and prices have declined considerably. We note sales of 9 wagon loads of loose, at the scales, at $20@23 per ton. Market dull at these quotations.

POTATOES—Sales of choice articles were made, from store, at $1 40@1 50 per bushel, in small lots. There is a prospect of a rapid decline in this article.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, THURSDAY, June 6, 1867.

BUSINESS—The market remains dull, with a pretty wide range between the views of buyers and sellers. The former are disposed to hold off, at least for the present, expecting that lower prices will soon prevail. On the other hand, sellers are of the opinion that prices are sufficiently low, thus producing a dull market. The receipts since our last were 1,989 bbls. The rates were nominal, buyers offering 6¾@7c for bulk. No sales were reported. The sales for future delivery were 3,825 bbls, in lots of 825 bbls bulk; the terms were withheld; and 3,000 bbls bulk, July delivery, sellers' option, at 7¼c, being equal to 12¼c packages included.

REFINED OIL—The market remains in a very unsettled condition, although a number of sales were made, all for future delivery. We note as follows: 1,000 bbls standard white, Philadelphia, immediate, 24½c: and 3,000 bbls prime light straw to white, deliverable 500 bbls per month, beginning with July and ending with December, at 27c ₱ gallon for each month: 500 bbls prime light straw to white, August, Philadelphia. 26c. Sales 600 bbls Philadelphia, immediate; the terms were withheld.

WOOL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, WEDNESDAY EVENING, June 5, 1867.

As usual at this period of the year, much anxiety is felt by wool growers and dealers as to the future, and, indeed, we believe there is more intense anxiety manifested in regard to the prospects of the wool season, now so near at hand, than we have known for a long time past. That such should be the fact furnishes good grounds for surprise. In reference to manufactures the large amount of capital invested at the present time in woolen goods, upon which the manufacturers have not been able to realize, owing principally to the extreme severity of the weather, so much so that the spring trade of the season this year has been practically lost. The rigid economy which consumers are compelled to exercise, as a result of the extraordinary price of breadstuffs, and indeed of every article that enters into the household economy, will materially cripple the demand for articles of clothing of all descriptions. We would infer that the influences referred to will prevent the final absorption of the supply, and they certainly do lead to the conclusion that the season will be dull and that prices must be lower. In regard to the new clip we strongly advise wool growers and dealers to put their stock in the market as early as possible. We wish to call the farmers' attention to the importance of having the wool put up in the best possible manner, and by no means to let their flocks run after washing so long as to have the cake rise, as manufacturers want wool and not grease and twine—as it has become a practice among our formers to put up their wool with an unusual amount of very heavy twine; also by putting inside of clean fleeces the wool of a sheep that died during the winter, without washing it. All such wools will be thrown out this season. Pittsburgh should be a great wool market. The wool merchants here are always prepared to pay the full market price, for all grades of clean washed wool, in cash.

There has been no receipts of wool of any consequence this season yet.

We quote our market prices as follows:

Common fleece	38@40
Tub washed	40@45
½@¾ blood fleece	44@45
¾ blood fleece	45@47
Full blood fleece	47@50

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

CINCINNATI.

The receipts of cattle at the Brighton pens, during the week ending Monday evening last, were light, and under the short supply the market has ruled firm. To-day 250 head only were offered. The market was brisk and all sold out early. Most of the stock was of medium quality; very few would do to ship. Prices are firm for common at $4 50@5 50; medium at $6 00@6 50; prime at $6 75@7 50; and extra shipping stock at $8 00.

Sheep and Lambs—The market has been overstocked all the week, and prices have declined to $2 50@4 50 ₱ 100 lbs live weight, for common to good sheep, and $2@3 50 ₱ head for lambs. All sold at the close.

Hogs—There was a good demand the first of the week, but with increased receipts the market closes dull, at $6@7 00 gross, for light and heavy averages.

At the Union Stock Yards the supply of Cattle was more liberal and the demand somewhat better, and prices firm, with all sold at the close. Extra shipping cattle were in active demand, with sales at $8 00@8 25, and a few at $8 50. Extra butchers' stock sold at $7 00@7 50; fair do at $5 50@6 75, and inferior grades at $4 50@5 75.

At the Great Western Stock Yards, butcher's stuff is rather dull and a shade lower. Old cows and scalawags sold at 4½@5½c; common, 6 to 6½c; good, from 7 to 7½c. Good shipping cattle are in good demand, and good prices are easily obtained; say from 8 to 8½c.

SHEEP—Are rather dull at 2½ to 4½c ₱ lb; lambs from $2 to $4 ₱ head.

COVINGTON, KY.

The market during the last week for cattle was quiet, and prices about the same as the week previous. The receipts amounted to 819 head, 581 of which were shipped east or north, and the remainder sold here at the following prices, viz: First quality, $7 25@7 50 ₱ 100 lbs; second quality, $6 25@6 50; third quality, $4 50@5 50. Extra cattle, and those suitable for shipping, sell at $8@8 25.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—The receipts during the past week amounted to 1,593 head, 1,200 of which were sold at $3 25@5 ₱ 100 lbs for sheep, and $3@4 50 ₱ head for lambs. Extra fine sheep would perhaps command $5 50.

HOGS—Sales of 281 head are reported at $5 75@6 75 ₱ 100 lbs. gross. No extra hogs are being offered. They would probably sell at $7.

The decline in corn to-day, occasioned by the decline in Liverpool, owing to receipts of nearly 550,000 bush from Black Sea ports. The crop accounts continue favorable from all points, and the harvest promises earlier than generally expected. New ripe wheat from Georgia was on exhibition at the Produce Exchange, cut last week. In some sections of New Jersey the farmers are already harvesting rye, which it was thought would be late.

THE RIVER AND MATTERS ALONG THE WHARF.—The weather yesterday was fine and the most pleasant day we have experienced for some time. Trade on the wharf was not very active, although St. Louis freights were more plenty. The marks on the Monongahela pier indicated seven feet and falling; on the Allegheny marks eight feet and falling. The fine packet Importer is announced for Cairo and St. Paul. Passengers and shippers can bear this in mind. The Star Grey Eagle left on time for Parkersburg, with a fair trip. The packet for this day is the steamer Bayard, Captain Moore. She leaves at noon. The Ingomar is the Matamoras packet, at 11 A. M. The far-famed packet Kenton will positively take her departure this day at 12 M., for Memphis and New Orleans. She will go through for certain; no re-shipping. The Argosy left yesterday for Cincinnati, with a good trip, as usual. The St. Louis packets that leave here connect at St. Louis with the Northern Packet Line for St. Paul. The R. C. Gray is due from Cincinnati. The next boat in turn after the Importer is the Kate Putnam. The steamer R. Moore is due from Portsmouth. The towboat Antelope has arrived.

BOATS IN PORT—Importer, Kate Putnam, Delaware, Belle Vernon, Leni Leoti, Columbia, Kenton.

THE Argosy left yesterday for Cincinnati with a fair trip.

PITTSBURGH BOATS.—The Lorena, Glendale and New York, are in port at St. Louis.

THE steamer Sherman, Captain Baker, is loading at Cincinnati for St. Louis.

THE Wabash and White rivers, and all their tributaries, are reported at high tide, the former almost at a flood.

THE steamer Belle, Captain Laughrey, left Cincinnati for this port on Tuesday. She will arrive here on Saturday.

THE following steamers were announced to leave Cincinnati for this port: Belle, Julia No. 2, Kate Robinson.

TOW BOATS IN PORT.—Hornet, Warner, Resolute, Tom Rees, V. F. Wilson, Coal City, Mary Davage, and Antelope.

CAPT. G. W. NEAVE has been elected a director in the Cincinnati C. C. M. Association, in place of John C. Reno, resigned.

EVANSVILLE.—The receipts of tobacco at this point on Saturday were 733 hhds. Total for the week 2,510 hhds. That will do.

THE towboat Alps left Cairo on Monday with twenty-one boats and barges loaded with coal for the New Orleans market.

IT seems, by later accounts received from New Orleans, that the Leonidas was materially injured by the explosion of the steamer St. Mary.

LOW FIGURES.—At an auction of stocks on 'Change in St. Louis, Friday last, four hundred shares of the A. & M. S. S. Co. were sold at the rate of $8 per share.

THE fine side-wheel steamer Ingomar, Captain Thompson, takes her departure this day at eleven A. M., for Matamoras and way points. Persons going that way will be well cared for.

THE fine packet Bayard, Captain Moore, leaves for Parkersburg this day at noon. Persons going that way will receive the best of attention. Call early and secure a passage.

CAPT. THOS. RAY is ahead, as will be seen by the following: The Waverly was the first arrival of the season at Fort Benton. She was there on the 25th of May in good condition, and would leave on return trip on the 5th.

DISTANCE.—The measused distance between Benton and Helena is found to be one hundred and forty and a half miles. The Missouri, at Benton, was swelling on the 9th ult.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO SHIPPERS AND PASSENGERS.—The Passenger Packet Kenton, Capt. J. H. Dunlap, will positively take her departure this day at 12 M. Shippers will please have their bills of lading on board before this time.

BAR ROBBED.—The bar of the steamer Grey Eagle was robbed at Steubenville on her last trip up. The thief got for his trouble a silver watch and chain and fifteen dollars in money. As the number of the watch is known the thief will have to be very cautious to avoid detection. Parties are already on his track.

THE Allegheny River Packet Company will hereafter run two boats per week, leaving here every Tuesday and Friday at 3 P. M. The Echo No. 3, Capt. Gordon, left yesterday. The Ida Rees No. 2, Capt. Rees, will leave on Friday at 3 P. M. The Urilda is undergoing repairs.

NEW ORLEANS.—Receipts of cotton are extremely small, and the steamboat men say that nearly all has been shipped that was made last year. Latest advices from Red river report that stream falling very fast.

FREIGHTS from all points having become so very scarce, it has compelled our packets to lay over from day to day. The steamers Monsoon, B. L. Hodge, Wm. Butler and J. M. Sharp, are compelled to lay over on account of the scarcity of freights.

THE fine packet Importer, Captain J. Noss, is announced for Cairo, St. Louis and the Upper Mississippi. This boat belongs to the regular line, has superior accommodations, and is in charge of careful and attentive officers. She will take Missouri river and St. Paul freight. Mr. Dravo, who has charge of the office, will see that passengers are well cared for.

MORE BRIDGES.—To a Detroit company has recently been awarded the contract for the construction of two of the largest iron railway bridges in the United States or the world, the longer of which is to cross the Mississippi, at Quincy, Ill., the shorter at Burlington, Iowa. The first will be 4,977 feet long, and the second 2,100 feet.

MEMPHIS.—The Bulletin has the following: We learn that the Dan Able has been chartered for the use of the Typographical Convention, which meets in this city next week. She will be in port to leave on Thursday next, and from indications yesterday, had better remain until then, as freights and people are scarce. She might be profitably employed as an excursion boat this summer.

HO FOR THE SOUTH.—The A No. 1 passenger steamer Kenton, J. H. Dunlap commanding, leaves this day, positively, at 12 M., for Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. This boat is well found in every respect and is in charge of as clever set of officers as can be found. This boat will be certain to go through without reshipping. Our old friend Capt. Sharp Hemphill will do the honors in the office with credit to himself and profit for the owners.

JEFFERSONVILLE, IND., June 3.—The river is on a stand, with 8 feet 6 inches in the pass over the falls, and 7 feet over the rocks, for tows, and 6 feet for ascending boats. The weather is clear and pleasant, with the wind in the West. The Glasgow and Maggie Hays passed down. The following towboats have arrived from Pittsburgh: Grand Lake, Sam. Roberts, Arrow and Eagle. Three towboats and barges passed over the falls to-day.

THE RIVER BUSINESS AT CINCINNATI—THE GAZETTE ON THE SITUATION.—So far as business is concerned, the week opened with very promising indications for an improvement on its several predecessors. The discharging of freight from Sunday's and Saturday's arrivals, gave the wharf quite an animated appearance, which, combined with quantities of shipments finding their way to the river, presented such a cheerful and pleasing aspect, that all about the landing wore bright and happy faces. A week of right good business would be equal to an excursion in the country, or Niagara, Saratoga, or even to Cairo.

CINCINNATI.—Captain Frank J. Oakes is superintending the construction of a large stern-wheel steamer for James W. Gaff and others, which will be completed for the fall trade. The hull is 151 feet on deck, 40 feet floor, 42 feet beam, with 6½ depth of hold in the wing, with five feet shear. She will have 5 boilers, 36 inches in diameter, 24 feet long; the cylinder being 22 inches in diameter, with 6 feet length of stroke, working a water-wheel 23 feet in diameter, with 30 feet length of buckets. She will trim on 30 inches, and carry 900 tons.

THE Cincinnati Gazette thus compliments our old friend Browne:

"The Ida Rees, and her universally popular commander, Captain Joe. Browne, arrived yesterday afternoon at two o'clock from Pittsburgh, which port they left Saturday evening. She discharged one hundred and three tons of freight for this city, reshipped thirteen tons on the Nashville packet Havana, and a quantity of New Orleans freight on the Emerald, after which she proceeded to Louisville with two hundred tons. She will be here on Saturday next en route to Pittsburgh."

The Alexandria Democrat of the 29th says:

The past week has left us no regrets that it is gone and buried in time's grave. The weather has been bad—horrid—awfully so. The planting interest has suffered materially thereby, leaving the crops of corn and cotton badly in the grass. On many places the cotton lice have made their appearance and will cause serious injury to the already backward cotton. The whole month of May, proverbially the finest in the year, has been a bad one to the entire planting and farming community, and nothing but a fine June can help them out.

MONDAY'S Louisville Courier says: On the falls last evening there were fully seven feet steamboat water, and the river rising half an inch per hour. This makes a fair stage for the coal fleet, and flats and barges will be in readiness to try the hazards of the falls to-day. Several of the coal fleet and steam-tugs came in from Pittsburgh yesterday with heavy tows of coal, the last of the May run from Pittsburgh. Some were landed at the pumpkin patch, and others at the foot of the tow-head, to prepare for another adventure. The Pittsburgh pilots and crews are generally paid off here, and new crews engaged to go South. The Havana, on Saturday, was caught in a squall on the falls, the wind for a brief space blowing her around like a weather-cock, and it was feared she would be cast away on the back-bone. She happily rode out the storm and was unhurt.
